Censored Dispatch Hints Gen. Chiang Already Has Fled

By FRED HAMPSON

SHANGHAI (AP)—The first shells of the civil war smashed into teeming Shanghai proper today as the Communists returned to the assault on this largest city in all Asia.

Four high explosive shells, presumably from Communist batteries east of the city, struck in the old French quarter. At least six Chinese civilians were killed. Ten others were wounded.

A garrison communique said the Communists broke an evening lull with an attack on the Woosung sector, 10 miles north of Shanghai, where the Whangpoo River meets the Yangtze.

The communique said two companies of Communists tried to seize the government radio transmitter in that area, but were beaten back after losing "half their men."

It appeared that Shanghai's time is drawing short.

The Bund, Shanghai's waterfront thoroughfare, was banned to civilian traffic. (This would be a military measure to clear the way for military withdrawals on the Whangpoo to the Yangtze.)

What the Nationalists are doing there is not clear. There were no important troop loadings on ships waiting at anchor.

Rumors Prominent Citizens Leave

There were rumors that important Chinese in Shanghai were leaving, but these were not borne out by checks at airports.

This, however, does not apply to "Peanut," who seems to have left several days ago.

"Peanut" was the name applied to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek by the late Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell. This dispatch, written under censorship, obviously was saying that Chiang had left Shanghai. He had been reported directing the city's defenses.

(There were no developments reported from the rest of the China civil fronts. The Communists last were reported threatening Foochow, on the southeast coast, appearing south of fallen Hankow in central China, and moving south on Canton, refugee capital.)

Traffic Rolls To Berlin With No Red Interference

BERLIN (AP)—Traffic rolled on all roads to Berlin today without Russian interference, although the Soviets still have not answered western protests against their on-again-off-again rules.

Economists of the Russian and western zones got together for more talks in their deadlocked efforts to arrange for a revival of inter-zone trade. But the whole situation still was a merry-go-round of confusion, with nobody really understanding what lies behind the recent Soviet tactics.

The Russians renewed their accusation that the western military governments are trying to "destroy" the Soviet zone's economy, and the westerners stuck to their old denial.

Berlin railway workers, disgruntled by failure to obtain full payment of their wages in west-marks instead of the less valuable Soviet zone currency, threatened to start a crippling transport strike at midnight tonight. Mayor Ernest Reuter of West Berlin said he would meet with leaders of the anti-Communist railway union Thursday afternoon, and hoped to get a settlement.

The Soviets Thursday called off temporarily their ban on the movement of freight trucks on the autobahn, the main road and shortest one linking western Germany to Berlin.

They had indicated this was a temporary move, and that only trucks bearing Soviet permits as well as those from the Western Allies would be permitted to move on to Berlin on this route starting today. But they made no move this morning to interfere with those lacking Soviet permits.

Rains, Snow Bring Relief To Parched Prairie Crops

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rains and snow have brought cooling relief to parched areas in Alberta and timely aid to Saskatchewan.

The rains came just in time to give western crops a much-needed reprieve from the drought conditions which prevailed this spring, the crop reports of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways said today.

Manitoba now has ample moisture after some evidence of soil drying. Nearly all parts of Saskatchewan have benefited, and the grain areas of Alberta, after a prolonged drought, report improvement from varying precipitation.

Manitoba has made good progress with seeding, which also has progressed steadily in Saskatchewan except in the dry areas in the south-central and southwestern districts. There seeding has halted pending good rains. In these sections germination has been slow.

The reports said grasshoppers are hatching in all three provinces. Control measures have not yet begun in Manitoba because the main hatch is not due for a week or so.

Baiting is in progress at several points in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

In east-central Alberta, wheat seeding is reported 90-100 per cent completed, with coarse grains seeding varying from nil to 90 per cent because many farmers are waiting for rain before seeding.

Britain-U.S. Not Making 'Back-Door' Greek Settlement

LONDON (AP)—Britain today announced she will refuse to negotiate a settlement of the Greek civil war "behind the back of the Greek government."

Informants in Washington said a similar reply had been given by the United States to a proposal by Russia for halting the three-year-long civil strife between the Athens government and Communist-led guerrillas.

The Foreign Office said State Minister Hector McNeill told Andrei Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, in New York conversations recently that "the hostilities would soon cease if the northern neighbors of Greece stopped giving aid and shelter to the rebels."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said in Moscow that Gromyko had proposed negotiation of a Greek settlement based on recent peace proposals of the guerrillas, who had proclaimed a separatist government of their own. Athens has rejected such guerrilla overtures several times and demanded unconditional surrender.

The Athens position apparently has been strengthened lately. Recently a spokesman for Gen. James A. Van Fleet, head of the U.S. Military Mission in Athens, said the Greek army had whittled down guerrilla forces by a fifth during the last year. This indicated the Nationalist forces now outnumbered the guerrillas 10 to 1.

Gromyko, according to Tass, has proposed big power negotiations on the Greek question under certain circumstances, which would include withdrawal of all foreign military aid to the Nationalist government.

Respect Rights Of Athens Govt.

The Foreign Office gave some details of recent conversations in New York on the subject. Gromyko, McNeill and Dean Rusk, U.S. Assistant Secretary of State, took part.

"Mr. McNeill also pointed out to Mr. Gromyko that His Majesty's government would not wish to take to themselves powers that were completely resident in the Greek government, and said that he was sure that this was also true of the United States government and the Soviet government."

The Foreign Office statement said, "As a corollary, Mr. Gromyko would know although he (McNeill) did not wish to introduce any discordant note, that representatives of the rebels could not in any way be regarded as a government."

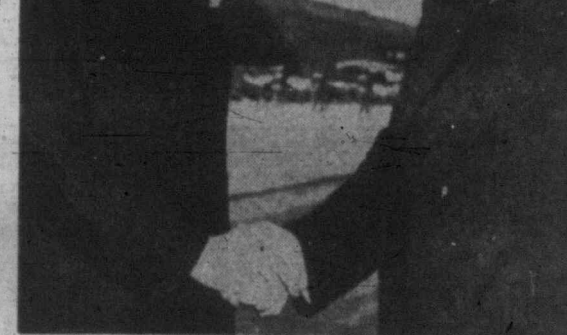

"Secondly, as again he knew, all three governments always wished to exert care in insuring that they did not interfere in what were properly the domestic concerns of the Greek government."

Nth. Saskatchewan At Present Worst Forest Fire Area

By the Canadian Press

The forest fire situation in northern Saskatchewan, most seriously threatened area of Western Canada, is reported somewhat improved today, although field officer Fred Red, head of the Natural Resources Department said the hazard still is "extremely high."

In Alberta J. L. Janssen, chief timber inspector for the province said the forest fire situation was showing "little change" from Thursday, when all but three blazes were held in check.

All hush blazes in Manitoba are under control, with J. G. Somers of the Provincial Forestry Department reporting the number of fire fighters on active duty in the province has been reduced from 1,000 to 200.

Although skies were cloudy overnight in Alberta, meteorological department officials said there is little possibility of heavy rains in either that province or in other sections of the prairies. Rains earlier this week played a large part in quelling a number of serious forest fires. Temperatures in forest fire areas of the west were expected to hover around 60 degrees today, about 5 degrees below the seasonal average.

Martin Criticizes Drew's Campaign

ST. MARY'S, Nfld. (CP)—Health Minister Martin Thursday night questioned the right of Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew to seek support at the polls on a social security platform.

Mr. Martin gave a federal campaign address at a meeting of some 300 voters in this fishing village in the provincial district of Placentia-St. Mary's.

Mr. Martin, in the midst of a four-day tour, said Mr. Drew had opposed family allowances, terming the measure at various times, "iniquitous" and "an obvious bribe to Quebec."

Noting later statements by Mr. Drew that he was in favor of family allowances, Mr. Martin said he was happy that the Tory Party, as well as other parties, is getting on the Liberal bandwagon.

West Powers In Good Position For Parley

By WES GALLAGHER

BERLIN (AP)—Britain, the United States and France will go into the Paris Foreign Ministers' conference in their strongest positions since Yalta.

This is the situation of the Big Four as seen today in Berlin, where the three Western Allies and Russia wrangle daily.

The Soviet Union's bargaining situation has been considerably weakened economically and politically since the Moscow and London conferences.

In both previous conferences the west was in a defensive position trying to seek agreements with Russia.

At the Paris conference for the first time diplomats believe the west can take the offensive or sit tight and let the Soviets seek to break the deadlock.

In a nutshell, the comparative positions on Germany are seen in this light:

Western advantages:

1. Last year and two years ago Western Germany was poverty-stricken and economically stagnant. Today its industry is booming, living standards have been raised, its money has been reformed and put on a stable basis and recovery is well under way.

2. Last year and two years ago West Germany was a political vacuum. Today the Germans are busy setting up their own West German state and Germans as a whole have taken an interest in politics again. They have definitely aligned themselves with the west.

3. Last year and two years ago the Western Powers were split on their German policy. With security fears largely alleviated by the Atlantic Pact, France is now closer to Britain and the United States and united in a common German policy.

Russia's position:

1. At the end of the war the Soviets had the only zone which could support itself economically, particularly in food. Today, stripped by reparations, and shipping vast quantities of goods to Russia, the eastern zone is a deficit area. Its standard of living has tumbled far below Western Germany. Its money, despite reforms, is worth only one-fourth as much as the west mark.

2. At the end of the war, the Russians had a chance to win German support by a lenient occupation policy. Today there is no hope for such support except by force of arms.

Mother Leaves Baby In Vancouver Hotel

VANCOUVER (CP)—A three-month-old baby is having no trouble crying and giggling in a Vancouver hotel, but he is creating a problem for Vancouver police and welfare officials.

They don't know what to do with him.

The boy was brought into the hotel Wednesday. The mother, aged 24, said she was from Quathiaqui, Cove. She disappeared and police were called in late Thursday.

The baby continues to be in good health and plays happily.

Hangar Of Alaska Airlines Destroyed

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Flames of gasoline ignited by a spark from a welder's torch destroyed the Alaska Airlines hangar No. 3 in 40 minutes late Thursday.

1,800 Employees Of Ford Of Canada Idled By Strike

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Approximately 1,800 employees of the Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd. have been laid off, and approximately 75 per cent of the remaining plant workers are on short time, as a result of the stoppage of deliveries of parts and material.

These normally are obtained from the Ford plants in the United States, strike-bound since May 5. The total factory payroll of Ford of Canada exceeds $11,000.

"We are doing our level best to keep layoffs to a minimum and to provide as much work as possible for our people," Rhys M. Sale, executive vice-president, said today. "Our daily production schedule has been cut back to 250 vehicles. We are receiving extraordinary co-operation from our suppliers in this emergency and have every hope we can carry on for some time at the present rate."

No Snap Election Planned By Attlee

LONDON (CP)—The Press Association today said it had been reliably informed that Prime Minister Attlee has no plans for a snap general election this fall.

The association's lobby correspondent said it was also denied that Attlee planned a drastic government shuffle in preparation for the election.

The agency story followed newspaper speculation concerning the date of the next election. The Daily Graphic said today: "There is a possibility of a general election this year."

General opinion has been that the election will come next summer.

Islanders Wade Into Lake Erie To Rescue Four

KINGSTOWN, Ont. (CP)—Pelée Islanders waded into the boiling waves of Lake Erie to aid in the rescue of four passengers, one a three-year-old child, from the steamer Pelée, which grounded when a 70-mile-an-hour squall hit as the ship was being docked.

The tug America arrived from Toledo, O., at noon today and is aiding in trying to free the veteran lake steamer, which lies in less than six feet of water.

The passengers, Mrs. Catherine Stoltz of Pelée Island, Mrs. William Otter of Toledo, her three-year-old daughter, and William Bartle of Pelée Island, were removed from the Pelée when there seemed to be a danger the ship would capsize.

The captain, John H. Gordon of Alvinston, Ont., and the 12-man crew stayed on the ship overnight. The Islanders waded out to meet the rescue boat and kept it from being shattered against jagged rocks.

Prepare Action If 40-Hour Plan Not Acceptable

Surprise strike vote is to be taken Monday among 3,000 British Columbia Electric transit employees in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster.

Inhabitants of the three cities will know late Tuesday if it means a repetition of the street railway tie-up which paralyzed transportation for 29 days in November, 1947.

Supervised by provincial Labor Board officials, the strike vote will be taken at the same time as a "yes or no" decision by the men on the recent 40-hour week by July 1950 offer from a conciliation board.

The advisory board of the Street Railwaymen's union, made up of senior union executives from the three cities, has recommended that the men reject the conciliation award.

The employees will be able to give notice of strike action immediately the result of the Monday ballot is known.

Thomas Dunlop, president of Vancouver Division 101 of the S.R.U., said today the men may strike "any time after the membership approves a strike."

Two ballots will be submitted to the men and voting will be simultaneous in all three cities.

On Thursday the transit employees heard their advisory board recommend rejection of a majority award of the conciliation board which would give them a 40-hour week in three steps by July 1950 with no increase in take-home pay.

The company accepted the offer.

WANT IT THIS YEAR

"We want the 40-hour week this year, not in 14 months," Lloyd Esler, business agent of the union, told the Vancouver meetings.

Two years ago the union won a 15-cent-an-hour increase after a 29-day strike.

President A. E. Grauer claimed Thursday the eventual reaching of the 40-hour week was equivalent to granting the streetcar and bus operators an increase in wages of 16 1/2 cents an hour.

Writ Prevents Judge Hearing Asbestos Case

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)

A writ of prohibition was served today on Judge Aime Chasse to prevent him from hearing one of the cases of asbestos union leaders charged with conspiracy to incite illegal assembly. The judge immediately withdrew from all the cases.

It was not immediately clear what procedure would be followed.

The writ was served by Alexandre Chevalier, counsel for Rene Roch, a union organizer who was arrested last Saturday with 15 other officials of the striking Asbestos Workers' Union.

QUOTE STATEMENTS

The writ alleged that the judge had "lost jurisdiction" because on several occasions he had made statements giving "the accused reason to believe he would not receive justice."

Judge Chasse said the writ contained erroneous statements, but he was withdrawing from hearing all 16 cases.

The 16 were arraigned last Monday on charges growing out of clashes between police and strikers at Asbestos May 5. Their cases were to have continued today.

On her first three postwar voyages from New Zealand and Australia, the Aorangi berthed at Ogden Point Docks.

Britain, U.S. Reaffirm Policy Toward Greece

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has told Russia that if it wants peace in Greece it should get the Communist satellite states to stop aiding the Greek guerrillas.

Until such help is ended the U.S. government will not relax assistance to non-Communist Greece.

These two points were disclosed in a statement issued by the State Department today. The statement brought out that the department has rejected Soviet efforts to get the Greek situation out of the United Nations and into the hands of the great powers for what amounts to a compromise settlement.

NO BACK-DOOR MOVE

LONDON (AP)—Britain today announced she will refuse to negotiate a settlement of the Greek civil war "behind the back of the Greek government."

The Foreign Office said State Minister Hector McNeill told Andrei Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, in New York conversations recently that "the hostilities would soon cease if the northern neighbors of Greece stopped giving aid and shelter to the rebels." Traffic Rolls To Berlin With No Red Interference

BERLIN (AP)—Traffic rolled on all roads to Berlin today without Russian interference, although the Soviets still have not answered western protests against their on-again-off-again rules.

Economists of the Russian and western zones got together for more talks in their deadlocked efforts to arrange for a revival of inter-zone trade. But the whole situation still was a merry-go-round of confusion, with nobody really understanding what lies behind the recent Soviet tactics.

The Russians renewed their accusation that the western military governments are trying to "destroy" the Soviet zone's economy, and the westerners stuck to their old denial.

Berlin railway workers, disgruntled by failure to obtain full payment of their wages in west marks instead of the less valuable Soviet zone currency, threatened to start a crippling transport strike at midnight tonight. Mayor Ernest Reuter of West Berlin said he would meet with leaders of the anti-Communist railway union Thursday afternoon, and hoped to get a settlement.

The Soviets Thursday called off temporarily their ban on the movement of freight trucks on the autobahn, the main road and shortest one linking western Germany to Berlin.

They had indicated this was a temporary move, and that only trucks bearing Soviet permits as well as those from the Western Allies would be permitted to move on to Berlin on this route starting today. But they made no move this morning to interfere with those lacking Soviet permits.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

STORY OF A DANCER

TO THE PRESENT GENERATION the name of Vaslav Nijinsky probably conveys nothing, but to me and to a good many others of my generation, it brings back memories of one of the greatest male dancers the world has ever known. I well remember seeing the great Russian artist when taken as a young girl to the first ballet I had ever seen at Covent Garden. It was "Spectre de la Rose" and beyond the general beauty of the production, the most vivid impression I retain of it is Nijinsky's leap through a window.

For a tense moment he seemed frozen in flight, transfixed, and his achievement led the world to declare that he had conquered the laws of gravity.

HEIGHT OF HIS FAME

AT THAT TIME he was young and at the height of his fame—in more senses than one. His incomparable art took him all over the world, and vast audiences acclaimed him as the supreme male of the art of the ballet.

When he was dancing in Budapest he met Romola, a 16-year-old Hungarian dancer. They fell in love, so she left her home and joined the ballet to be near him, which was then on its way to America. But he spoke only Russian, and she only knew her own native tongue.

Finally they were married in Buenos Aires—and, despite his record of success, Nijinsky was dismissed from the ballet company for getting married.

FORTUNES FAILED

THAT MARKED the beginning of the end of his dancing career. His fortunes failed and he began brooding until finally his mind failed, too. For 30 years, Nijinsky was a patient in various European mental hospitals and in his own home.

During all that time he recognized only his wife, who nursed him devotedly. Famous doctors did all they could for him, without avail, and his wife brought famous dancers to perform before him in the hope that it might arouse the spark which would restore him to sanity.

Her friends tried to persuade Romola to forget her marriage vows and divorce the stricken dancer, but she refused to desert him in his long illness.

WROTE BIOGRAPHY

THROUGH ALL THOSE YEARS Romola Nijinsky struggled hard with poverty as well as the tragedy of her husband's clouded mind. In an effort to raise funds for her own support and provide him with the best possible treatment, she wrote a biography of Nijinsky.

I read the book at the time and well recall the tender, understanding way in which she traced the progress of his illness, the gradual mental disintegration of the once great artist.

And I was greatly impressed by her underlying faith in his ultimate recovery, not necessarily to dance again, but to live again in the world of reality, rather than in the chimerical world of his own creation.

HAS HIM HOME

FROM A LONDON NEWS ITEM, I see that her hopes have been realized and that her loving care has helped to restore him to 90 per cent sanity.

Two years ago she brought him back to England, where they have been living quietly in Surrey. The other day a London reporter saw them entering a small art gallery in Mayfair, where there was being held an exhibition of Nijinsky's crayon drawings.

And if, as that reporter claims, those drawings are "queer gyrations of a pencil, like the doodles of a mathematically-minded child," I am confident that they mean more even to Romola as symbolic of a vanishing spectre of mental derangement than all his one-time superb artistry as expressed in "Spectre de la Rose."

Ottawa Studying Scheme To Recruit Women For Reserve Forces; Army Week Show Ends Tonight

Cadets of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, under the command of Maj. J. Andrews, had the floor Thursday night as the Army Week activity program continued at Bay Street Armories.

Two platoons of the youngest of Scottish recruits in the Reserve Army put on a fine display of parade ground drill in the centre of the armory, around the sides of which are booths displaying weapons and equipment the units train with and would use in the event of war.

The week's program will conclude tonight when the 5th (B.C.) Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, R.C.A., and the 58th and 59th L.A. Workshops, R.C.E.M.E., work together in a program in which the public will be invited to try their marksmanship on rifle ranges.

All four Reserve Army units involved in the show are far below establishment and are seeking recruits. The reserve units are the nucleus around which armies are built in times of national emergencies.

WOMEN FOR RESERVE FORCES

Probably the biggest news in the national Army Week program comes from headquarters of the 5th Regiment that Ottawa is considering the possibility of recruiting women for voluntary reserve forces training.

Minister of Defence Claxton is reported to have told the Vancouver Artillery Officers' Association that "responsible officers of the department are giving the matter careful study."

The association, in a resolution to the minister, pointed out the increased international responsibility taken by Canada as a signatory of the North Atlantic Pact.

"It would require six years to provide the minimum training time of 600 hours for reservists," the resolution continues, noting that units are severely hampered by irregular attendance and inadequate accommodation.

The former artillery officers emphasized that in the event of an attack, reserve units would have to man defences, including certain instruments and equipment which women could operate as they did in Britain during the war.

"If women were reintroduced into Canada's armed forces, they would volunteer in large numbers," the resolution states. They would serve not only as a stimulus to recruiting, but would also provide personnel to man instruments and technical equipment, thereby releasing men for the manning of weapons."

Canadian Scottish Regiment officials, questioned on the matter of women joining the reserve forces, said that infantry would find them a valuable addition.

Involved in the armories' program are the following Reserve units: 1st Battalion, the Canadian Scottish Regiment, commanded by Lt. Col. R. D. Travis; Lt. Col. G. F. Paulin, 13th Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C., commanded by Lt. Col. Frederick commanded by Maj. Moore, and the 5th Area Signal Squadron, R.C.C.S., commanded by Capt. H. B. Evans.

Chairman of the activity committee for the Army Week program here is Maj. Walter Mosedale, second in command of the Scottish reserve infantry battalion.

HANDS ACROSS BORDER

The colorful Scottish bagpipe band and the Scottish and 5th Regiment English rugby teams left Victoria today to participate in the Port Townsend Rhododendron Festival. The rugby teams will clash in an exhibition game tonight under the lights, the pipes to be on hand. The band will also take part in the big parade.

Maj. Eric Stewart is in command of the whole party with Capt. J. Warburton as his adjutant. Rugby teams will be fighting for a cup put up by the festival committee.

Greek Archbishop Who Defied Nazis, Saved Lives, Dies

ATHENS (CP) — Archbishop Damaskinos, former Regent of Greece, died suddenly today. He was 58.

The six-foot-four-inch, bearded Archbishop, who ruled Greece as Regent from 1944 to 1946, had been in poor health for the last several months. He suffered from heart trouble.

Death occurred at his country home near Athens.

Damaskinos, who was Greek Orthodox Primate, took over the reins of troubled Greece after its liberation from the Germans. When Greece voted for the return of the King, Damaskinos relinquished the position.

Born in Dobruza, he was one of 13 children of a peasant family and took Holy Orders in 1908. In 1938 he was elected Archbishop of all Greece.

War and the German occupation brought Damaskinos to full stature. Under cover of his office he fought the invaders, organized the resistance, and saved hundreds of Jewish lives by asking Orthodox Greeks to harbor them.

Every time he visited German headquarters he carried a piece of rope. When the Germans lost their tempers over his unyielding attitude he offered them the rope, saying: "If you wish to hang me, here is the rope."

Once, given a list of hostages to be shot, he put his own name first on the list.

Sees Bright Future For Paper Industry Of Canada

The Canadian pulp and paper industry has an assured and certain future, provided it is wise and far-sighted during the testing period that lies immediately ahead, R. M. Fowler of Montreal, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, said here today.

Speaking before the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in Loughheed's Banquet Hall, Mr. Fowler pointed to the expanding market of pulp and paper products in the United States and advocated greater trade with countries outside this continent—particularly those of the Commonwealth.

He said all pulp and paper products are in fairly easy supply today, and for some commodities surpluses have appeared.

"Newsprint, which accounts for about half of total wood consumption by the industry, is still in active demand, but customers now have a reasonably ample supply and do not need to resort to high-priced and often inferior quality newsprint from other sources," the speaker stated.

LARGEST EMPLOYER

Pointing out that the industry was Canada's largest employer of labor, Mr. Fowler noted the increase of nearly 40 per cent in volume and 100 per cent in value between 1945 and 1948.

"This increase has resulted from the constantly mounting demand for Canadian pulp and paper, particularly on this continent, and the response of the Canadian industry to meet that demand," he said.

He added that this has only been possible by the plowing back of a major part of profits into the mills and woods operations. The wisdom of this policy of re-investment of earnings will be proven in the next few years, he said.

Mr. Fowler said the newsprint industry in this country is still operating at its mechanical capacity, which has increased nearly 400,000 tons since 1946.

"This year, Canada will produce almost 60 per cent of the world's newsprint—that is, during 1949, three out of every five pages of all the newspapers of the world will be printed on Canadian newsprint," he said.

He pointed to pulp production as a major factor in meeting Canada's American dollar problem.

Though there is at present some over-supply on this continent, it is likely temporary, Mr. Fowler said.

ONE MAJOR CLOUD

He cited the curtailment of trade with other traditional export markets outside North America as the one major cloud on the industry's horizon.

"I suggest that improvement will come not through some single spectacular action, but by small efforts to maintain and re-establish our overseas trade through the actions of governments, industries working together and individuals working separately. Perhaps the best place to start is with the old traditional markets in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other Commonwealth countries," the speaker said.

Junior Chamber To Sponsor Courtesy To Tourists Week

Though Victorians, as a rule, offer tourists every assistance, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has asked that they make a special effort during the week of June 1 to 7, which is to be designated "Courtesy to Tourists Week."

The campaign is to be supported by the British Columbia Travel Bureau and the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus. The local campaign will coincide with a national courtesy to tourist week being sponsored by the National Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A spokesman for the Victoria branch said Thursday that courtesy does not cost a thing—but it is worth millions to the tourist, and if practiced can be worth millions to Canadians.

Votes For I.W.A.

E. Haw, organizer for the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.O.A.), reported today that workmen of the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Co. Ltd. at Jordan River had voted for the I.W.A. as their bargaining agent.

In a vote conducted by the Labor Relations Board the men voted 63 for the I.W.A. to 54 for the Woodworkers' Industrial Union of Canada.

Cycle Riders Pay $1 Fines In Court

The recent warning by police officials to cyclists to get their current year's licence plates, has resulted in a dozen fines of $1 each being imposed in city police court this week.

Magistrate H. C. Hall advised one boy who appeared for this offence this morning that the by-law was passed primarily to help police trace stolen bicycles. "It is a by-law to protect your property," the magistrate said.

New Zealand Couple Say City Beautiful

Victoria is much like Auckland, New Zealand, in the opinion of two visitors from "down under" who called at the City Hall here today during a brief stop-over of St. Aorangi.

The visitors were Councillor and Mrs. Horace G. St. Vincent Beachey. The Auckland city councillor called at the City Hall to pay his respects to Mayor Percy George.

He and his wife are en route to England on a holiday and will return to New Zealand by way of South Africa.

Both thought Victoria was a beautiful city as they compared it with their home.

Klondike Night At Britannia Branch

The recently-formed Victoria wing of the Air Force Association will present its first offering to the public tonight when it stages "Klondike Night at the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, Blanshard at Cormorant Streets."

Proceeds from the affair will go towards giving members of the No. 89 (Kinsmen) Air Cadet Squadron flying training once they have completed ground instruction.

At the Klondike Night, Jerry Gossley will present a floor show featuring entertaining acts. There will be fun and games and a buffet supper will be served.

Forest Fire Hazard Still Improving

Further improvement in the forest fire situation in British Columbia was reported today with 31 blazes burning all under control.

The weather forecast indicates, however, that clearer skies and warmer weather is in store and the hazard will begin building up again.

The only two fires recorded in the Vancouver forest district today. They are the blazes at Chilliwack and at Powell River which are being mopped up.

Twenty-one fires are recorded in the Fort George district and they are being tended by 18 men. Both the Nelson and Kamloops districts have four fires. They are being tended by 12 men.

Martin Criticizes Drew's Campaign

ST. MARY'S, Nfld. (CP) — Health Minister Martin Thursday night questioned the right of Progressive Conservative Leader George Drew to seek support at the polls on a social security platform.

Mr. Martin gave a federal campaign address at a meeting of some 300 voters in this fishing village in the provincial district of Placentia-St. Mary's.

Mr. Martin, in the midst of a four-day tour, said Mr. Drew had opposed family allowances, terming the measure at various times, "iniquitous" and "an obvious bribe to Quebec."

Noting later statements by Mr. Drew that he was in favor of family allowances, Mr. Martin said he was happy that the Tory Party, as well as other parties, is getting on the Liberal bandwagon.

The Oak Bay Community Centre Art Club will hold its annual exhibition of paintings at the Centre premises, 2155 Oak Bay Avenue, on Monday. The president announces that the display would be open to the public. Reeve R. A. B. Wootton will officiate at the opening at 8.

Big Service Station On Douglas Street

A $13,000 service station including showrooms for a make of trucks for which it is agent in this area is planned at 2821 Douglas Street by Joseph Heaney Carriage and Storage Ltd.

The station will service private vehicles as well as trucks of the carriage company which has repair shops for its equipment at the rear of the site on the east side of Douglas Street, north of Market Street.

Work on the station has been started by George Wheaton, contractor, and it is expected the building will be completed in three months.

The project is the first major work authorized by the city building inspector in recent weeks.

Queen's Alumni Here To Hear Dr. Gilmour

Dr. S. M. Gilmour, professor of New Testament at Queen's University and associate director of university endowment, will address a meeting next Monday night at 6:30 in Terry's in connection with Queen's current endowment-raising campaign.

The meeting is being held under auspices of the Victoria Branch of Queen's Alumni Association. Dr. Gilmour will be met by local graduates and friends.

An author of numerous articles in religious periodicals, Dr. Gilmour holds degrees from the University of Manitoba, Union Theological Seminary in New York, Marburg University in Germany and University of Guelph.

Oak Bay Kiwanis Club will open its $5,000 refreshment building at Willows Park Tuesday, it is announced. Members have constructed the building themselves and started the work six weeks ago. It consists of a tearoom, hot-dog stand, dressing room and a room for storing equipment.

NEW TENNIS COURT—City workmen are speeding completion of two hard-surfaced tennis courts at Stadacona Park and there are possibilities others will be constructed. The city has offered to build public courts on a share-the-cost plan if clubs or any other organizations wish to take part. The Stadacona courts are being paid for entirely from park funds.

Additional Trip On Nanaimo Service

An additional daily round trip will be made this summer by Canadian Pacific ships between Vancouver and Nanaimo, George H. Baillie, vice-president of the railways Pacific region, has announced. This will mean six trips instead of the customary five.

The extra sailings will be made by the Princess Marguerite and Patricia starting June 29 and continuing to Sept. 6. Departure from Vancouver will be 8:15 p.m. and arrival at Nanaimo 10:30 p.m. The ship will remain at Nanaimo overnight and will take on passengers going to Vancouver who wish to sleep aboard. It will leave Nanaimo at 8:30 a.m., arriving in Vancouver 10:45 a.m.

Other ships operating between the two points will be the Princess Elaine, Victoria, Joan and Elizabeth. The extra trip has been added to accommodate the increasing number of passengers and cars moving between Vancouver and Nanaimo. Mr. Baillie explained. Between June 3 and 28, four round trips will operate daily.

Smuts' Party Loses Seat In By-election

JOHANNESBURG (Reuter)—The government picked up one seat in two by-elections held recently, it was announced Thursday. Prime Minister Malan's Nationalist Party gained the seat from the United Party of Gen. Jan C. Smuts, former Prime Minister. The second by-election saw the Nationalists now have a working majority of five in the Assembly. The government majority in the Senate is one.

Anti-Crime Comics Campaign Growing In Canada, U.S.

KELOWNA (CP)—The fight against horror comic books has broken out again in British Columbia.

It results from the death by hanging of 11-year-old Larry Cacchioni of Bankhead, near Kelowna. The child was found hanging by his belt.

The district Parent-Teacher Association, which had urged the banning of horror comics and other magazines blamed for juvenile delinquency, now plans an all-out campaign against them.

A coroner's jury was told the youngster was an enthusiastic reader of comic books and heard too that the boy had often said he wondered what it would feel like to hang.

TELL OF PROGRESS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Progress in a campaign against objectionable comic books, radio programs and motion pictures was reported Wednesday at the convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Joseph W. Eshelman of Birmingham, Ala., chairman of the juvenile protection committee, said 48 of 50 state and territorial branches of the congress had actively joined in the campaign, which was launched last September.

"Reports reveal that all local units have received 100 per cent co-operation from local authorities and other organizations in setting up a definite program of action," Mrs. Eshelman said.

"The interest of people all over the United States and Canada, not only of parent-teacher members, is indicated by more than 3,500 letters which have been received by the chairman, the national office and the national president."

"The congress' action committee on radio, comics and motion pictures met recently with representatives of publishers and producers, and these groups have indicated they are interested in

Caronia To Cruise To Four Continents

MONTREAL—First great cruise since before the war, a four-continent, 90-day voyage to South America, South and East Africa, Egypt, the Holy Land and the Mediterranean aboard the new Cunard White Star liner Caronia, was announced today by Arthur Randles, C.B.E., director and general passenger traffic manager, Cunard Donalson Ltd.

Cunard White Star will operate Caronia on her cruise in co-operation with the American Express Company and Thomas Cook & Son Ltd.

Sailing from New York Jan. 12, 1950, the 34,183-ton Caronia will sail almost 22,000 miles, visiting 28 ports with extensive inland shore excursions arranged. The cruise will terminate at Southampton, providing an optional stop-over for springtime in Europe, with passengers returning to New York at their convenience on any Cunard White Star liner.

Only One In 10 Czechs Communists

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Vlasta Adele Vraz, American relief worker, who was jailed in Prague last month on espionage charges, says "not more than 10 per cent of the people in Czechoslovakia are Communists."

"About 90 per cent are becoming more and more opposed to the government and more and more unhappy," she said on her arrival here aboard the liner Queen Mary.

Miss Vraz, who headed American relief for Czechoslovakia in Prague, said she was arrested on "false charges of espionage" because she had known a man a year ago who since has been accused of spying. He was not identified.

REVIEWING THE SESSION

THE SPRING SESSION OF THE UNITED NATIONS General Assembly, which has just concluded its business in New York, is being viewed by international experts in a much more optimistic light than were some of the previous conferences. This may be due perhaps not so much to the actual achievements of the global body as to a readjustment of ideas on how much to expect from it. In contrast to the almost complete failure that had marked some sessions, the recent meetings made progress in several fields. And the extent of that progress, even though modest in comparison with the hopes of the United Nations founders, is inspiring when measured against the disasters that could have occurred.

The Atlantic Pact was expected to provide diplomatic fireworks which might conceivably wreck the session. But although Russia delivered a savage attack on the western democracies' mutual defence agreement the topic was dismissed in one bitter debate, and the conference moved on to other business after Hector McNeill, Britain's Minister of State, dared the Soviet Union to lodge a formal complaint with the Assembly. No headway was made in disposing of the problem of Italian colonies, and the boycott on Franco's Spain was left unchanged. On the more positive side, however, the Assembly approved British and American action in protesting the trials of churchmen in Hungary and Bulgaria, and condemned Soviet restrictions on emigration of Russian women married to foreigners. Proposals to guarantee the freedom of international news transmission were approved, and arrangements were made for speedier handling of business at future meetings.

Outstanding among events of the session, however, was the lifting of the Berlin blockade. Although this did not come directly within the purview of the delegates, the belief was widespread that the informal talks which led up to the resumption of traffic could have been initiated only in the U.N. atmosphere. The United Nations, which some quarters feared, following last fall's session in Paris, had become merely a sounding board for propaganda and a possible source of increased international tension, has proved its worth. Admittedly unable to perform the wonders predicted for it at San Francisco four years ago, it nevertheless still represents mankind's best attempt to foster international peace. Its principle, set forth in the Charter, is still intact, even though some members have fallen short of their moral obligations to co-operate for the good of all. With that in mind, the future may be viewed with a fair measure of optimism.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM

IT IS NATURAL, AT THIS SEASON when universities have been conferring degrees on their graduates, that attention should again turn to one of the fundamental problems of education in our times. The issue has been raised recently by Dr. Clarence Sansom during an address delivered in the neighboring province in which he said that students of Alberta are being trained, but they are not being educated. His point is that the complexities and technological developments of recent years are so great that a young man or young woman has to devote so much time to acquiring specialized knowledge and technique that the principles of what used to be called a liberal education are losing their emphasis.

Some years ago an authority on the subject noted that the average high school child has frequently more knowledge of—or information about—more subjects than the distinguished scholar of an earlier age. It is obvious, of course, that the finest brains of the Middle Ages could know nothing of radio, nuclear fission and the innumerable new developments in the sphere of science. By the reverse token, modern man, when he takes the time to read them, is impressed by the lucidity and profundity of philosophical thought co-ordinated by the ancient Greeks.

The question today seems to be one of selective and critical capacities. No one man can enjoy thorough mastery of more than a small fraction of the sum total of knowledge now available. He can delve into only a relatively few subjects in the hope that his studies will bring him the measure of success to which he aspires. And few who seek to absorb through specialization all that is to be known about any matter have the opportunity of converting their knowledge into that concept that is wisdom.

It has been suggested that a return to intensive study of the so-called humanities may help to restore mankind to a more stable adjustment. Certainly some effort is needed to establish standards in terms other than those of chromium plating and modern automobiles. But the success of such efforts will depend, to a very considerable degree on the restoration of the too frequently forgotten practice of contemplation. And before man can learn to live satisfactorily with his fellows, he must learn to live satisfactorily with himself. That, in itself, is no mean task in a world of highly accelerated motion and the tensions which arise from those fruits of modern knowledge which do so much to eliminate the necessity of thought.

BUT NOT FOR FRANCO

TWO YEARS AGO VISCOUNT TEMPLEWOOD, formerly Sir Samuel Hoare, published his story of the Spain he knew as British Ambassador to Madrid during those war years when the democratic powers were exerting their efforts to keep Generalissimo Francisco Franco from actively casting in his lot with Hitler and Mussolini. At that time the paunchy little dictator appeared to be restrained from joining his spiritual brothers only by fear of the possibilities of their eventual defeat. He gave everything short of overt aid to the Nazi and Blackshirt leaders.

Sir Samuel, as he then was, had the unenviable job of keeping the cocky little Spaniard in as sweet a temper as possible in order to hold the totalitarian legions away from the coastline of the Iberian Peninsula. How sourly his task rested on the stomach of the present Viscount Templewood was amply illustrated in his book. We recall this phase—and note incidentally that Sir Samuel was scarcely a favorite of this newspaper—because of Franco's current charges that Britain has failed to keep her wartime promises to Spain.

If ever a nation was forced to turn its blind eye to the deficiencies of another, it was during those years. Detestation for the Franco regime had to be hidden beneath a diplomatic cloak. If Britain continued to see El Caudillo in his true colors, she was careful to mask the reflection of that vision from its original. Franco was allowed to see the image of himself he wished to look at.

Now the lonely little outcast from the ranks of decent men contends that Winston Churchill, in 1941, pledged that Britain would help Spain become a strong Mediterranean power after the war and would support Spain's territorial aspirations in North Africa. Ambassador Hoare, when he presented his credentials in June, 1940, did give Franco the assurance that Britain wished to see "Spain strong, powerful and exercising in Europe the influence that is due her historic position."

It is safe to say that Britain wishes the same today—but not for a Spain under the muzzle of Franco's guns. The big days of little Franco are gone—and with them any hopes of placing credence in his interpretations of the diplomatic promises he thought he was extracting under duress from the champions of freedom.

BASIC SOURCE OF WEALTH

AGRICULTURE MINISTER FRANK PUTNAM, who will not seek re-election in the forthcoming political contest, spoke with the authority of many years of farming experience when he stressed in an address on Wednesday that the soil is one of British Columbia's greatest assets. The forests and the mines are sources of great wealth, it is true. But they provide only the wherewithal to buy food, they do not produce it. This would be a hungry country today if it had no productive soil. It will be a hungry country in the future if that soil is not conserved.

Under proper management, said Mr. Putnam, "farms are permanent, non-wasting assets that will continue to produce in abundance indefinitely." But without that management, without attention to erosion control, fertilization, crop rotation and other conservation methods, deserts can appear where once crops grew. As in the proper utilization of any asset, intelligence is needed.

It is in this connection that the progressive farmer takes advantage of the many services which are made available by the provincial and federal governments. Field crop cultivation, soil analysis, disease and pest eradication, choice of seed, growth of tree and vine fruits, irrigation and a score of other farming problems are studied by the departmental experts, and the benefits of their findings are given to all who apply. Such services have been an inestimable boon to the producers of this province. The work is continuing and expanding—and the people of British Columbia are the beneficiaries.

QUIZ PROGRAM

THE BUSINESS OF TAKING A national census—a project carried out every 10 years in the United States and Canada and due for a revival in 1950 and 1951 respectively—appears to be assuming a more and more complex nature each time. Recent news articles on the subject have told of attempts by various interested politicians, groups and commercial interests in the United States to have special questions included in the census questionnaire which would provide information valuable for their particular objectives. The cosmetic industry, for instance, wants to know how many blondes, brunettes and red heads there are in the country. Bankers' organizations would like to know how many persons owe money and how many are creditors. And so it goes. Each question included on the already lengthy list, of course, means the expenditure of thousands of dollars on a national basis, but the periodic census seems like a good time to find the answers to the necessary queries. One point that might be cleared up is—what do people think about the bother of giving answers to so many personal questions? The answer to that one might help to eliminate a good many of the others.

The Soviets are now claiming that television was invented by a Russian. The Russians seem to excel in inventing stories.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP From Hongkong
MOBILIZATION IN HONGKONG

TO THE VISITOR arrived from Shanghai, Hongkong appears wonderfully calm and comfortable. The Shanghai streets are like a carnival in a nightmare; the streets of Hongkong, like a bustling, colorful country fair. On the Peak above the city there are big, comfortable houses, cool breezes and that air of peaceful stuffiness which is the hallmark of British colonial existence.

But the real difference between Hongkong and Shanghai is of quite another, more grim order. This city is sternly mobilizing for its own defence. It is mobilizing because there is a chance that something as ugly as what is now happening in Shanghai may start here within a few weeks or months. It is mobilizing because there is even a very remote chance that China's civil war may become an international war when it reaches Hongkong's borders.

BEFORE TOO LONG (six weeks to three months is the best guess) the Communist "People's Liberation Army" will arrive at the borders of Hongkong's leased territory on the mainland. Mao Tse Tung's victorious troops will then face a reinforced Hongkong garrison of some 12,000 British troops—hardly more than a corporal's guard. But if the "People's Liberation Army" then attempts to "liberate" Hongkong, the British troops will fight.

The British do not expect to have to fight. Yet they are making their intention to resist if attacked as obvious as possible. Fighter-planes have arrived at the totally inadequate Kai Tak airfield on the mainland. Aircraft carriers and other fleet reinforcements are steaming toward Hongkong. British troops in Singapore have been alerted to be ready for Hongkong duty on short notice. All this is intended to warn the Communists that an attack on Hongkong will mean war with a major power.

THERE ARE OTHER REASONS why the British do not expect to have to fight. The businessmen in particular rather nervously hope that the Communists have already decided to allow Hongkong to continue to function as a funnel for trade and a "window to the west." The evidence which supports this view is certainly not conclusive, but it is strikingly interesting.

A kind of barter trade, rather like the China trade of the clipper ship days, has been quietly carried on between Hongkong and the Communist north ever since the initial Communist victories. As in the old days, it has sometimes been highly profitable, with a single voyage netting a neat 100 per cent return. And very recently the Communists have evinced a more formal interest in trade with Hongkong.

THEY FIRST APPROACHED a great Chinese bank, with close Nationalist connections, to act as their Hongkong trading agent. The Chinese bank, whose main branches were still under Nationalist control, refused as politely as possible. The Communists then turned to a Belgian bank, with correspondents throughout the world. The Belgian bank accepted the assignment with pleasure. Already lubricating oil, paper and trucks are going north in exchange for shipments of bristles, soya beans and coal from the great Kailan mines.

On the other side of the balance sheet, less optimistic political observers point out that Hongkong is a rich prize, and that when the Communists control the mainland, the prize of this little island will be almost within their grasp. Moreover, the Communists could hope to seize the prize, if they were so minded, by a process of strangulation, rather than by direct assault.

HONGKONG COULD BE CUT clean off from China, and trade with China is Hongkong's reason for being. Then the pressure could be steadily increased. Hongkong's commerce could be thrown into confusion by a flood of hundreds of millions of Hongkong dollars from South China, where the Hongkong dollar has become the main medium of exchange. Finally, the Hongkong utilities, whose labor unions are Communist controlled, could be struck, and bloody street riots and looting promoted by Communist agents. The pressure to abandon Hongkong on almost any terms would then be very heavy, although the British assert stoutly that they intend to withstand any pressure whatever.

IN THIS RATHER ominous situation, only two points are clear. First, the way the Chinese Communists choose to deal with Hongkong will be the first decisive test of their policy toward the western world as a whole. If they adopt the "window to the west" approach to the Hongkong problem, we can assume that for the immediate future, they will wish to carry on extensive trade. Second, if the Chinese Communists attack Hongkong, there will be a fight; that fight will extend beyond Hongkong's borders. And there will even be danger of a Far Eastern War.

ARTHRITIC CENTRE

In your May 11 issue Mrs. H. Browning asks information about an arthritic centre or society in Victoria. I just got a circular from the B.C. division of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society at Vancouver, B.C., 997 West Broadway.

This circular shows that, here in British Columbia only Vancouver has, so far, an arthritic clinic and facilities to treat patients at home (a limited number), though the idea is to start similar clinics, etc. in other centres in B.C. as well, as soon as sufficient financial support is forthcoming.

Circular speaks of several formalities a patient has to go through, from a family physician on, before treatment can be given, even to those who live near enough to a centre.

This may be necessary, of course, but it makes treatment next to impossible to the many who cannot afford a "family physician" or any physician at all. Though treatment, free of charge, at or through the Vancouver centre seems possible, the necessity of getting a case history from a physician first, makes such free treatment unavailable to those with small incomes.

Just the same, the more arthritic sufferers join the British Columbia division (to pay $1.00—or more, if possible) the sooner we will get to the point, where sufficient financial help will become available, by pressure of numbers, afflicted, or otherwise.

ESQUIMALT 101 YEARS

It will come as a surprise to many residents of Victoria to be reminded that it is 101 years since the first British man-of-war entered and anchored in Esquimalt harbor.

The fine sailing frigate "Constance" of 50 guns and 2,125 tons, under Captain W. C. Courtenay, R.N., entered and anchored in the then completely forest-girt harbor on July 25, 1848. She had been commissioned at Devonport by Captain Courtenay on August 3, 1847, being the second of the name and was built at Pembroke in 1846. Her log is to be seen in the Public Record Office in Chancery Lane, where extracts were made by the writer in 1925.

She was at Valparaiso on April 26, 1848, at the Sandwich Islands June 11-28, and at Esquimalt July 25-Sept. 4, then to San Francisco on Sept. 16. Her first lieutenant was Mr. Edmund Heathcote, the second lieutenant was Mr. J. B. F. Wainwright, and third lieutenant, Hon. F. Curzon. I have got the navy list of that year so that I have a list of the officers.

Faster Engines—Quieter Flight

By WILLIAM HOLT in London Calling.

ON ONE OF THE advanced sectors of Britain's industrial front recently I had to put on a pair of ear-protectors made of sponge rubber; the noise was so deafening. I was standing inside a testing chamber where a turbo-jet aero engine was being revved up and checked over.

MEASURING THRUST

Outside, technicians were watching dials on an instrument panel, measuring the thrust of the engine. The engine itself was hung on steel straps and was pressing itself forward by its jet against a powerful stanchion or test-stand that measured the thrust in pounds. The technician who was inside there with me talked to me by signs, as if we were both deaf and dumb.

He signalled to me and pointed through the glass panel at the technicians outside. I nodded. Some of them I could see, were reading the dials, and some of the others were looking at us. Two mechanics who were inside the chamber with us were bending over the powerful giant engine.

The technician who was accompanying me signalled to me and pointed higher up the wall to some baffie-shutters. He solemnly waved his hands to show that the air was entering the grid in the engine's nose where it was caught by the whirling blades of the compressor.

Then, he moved his fingers round and round and in various directions to indicate how the air then passed through the combustion cans and against the turbine blades that turn the compressor and then went out through the jet.

He pointed with his forefinger straight along the enormous jet tube. I nodded again and asked him with my eyes and my fingers what was happening to the jet outside the chamber.

He signalled for me to follow him, and we passed through a door into the open air where I saw what looked like a school yard with a brick wall at the end, and in this yard was a battery of huge metal cylinders with baffie-plates to silence the noises of the jets that were coming from that testing chamber, and a series of other similar chambers built side by side.

TERRIFIC NOISE

We returned into the chamber, and out of curiosity I lifted my rubber ear-pads slightly. I was glad to let them snap back again. The noise was terrific, and in the middle of it was a strange, piercing sensation that seemed to penetrate deep down into my brain and heart. The technician grinned at me. That thin, high-pitched snarl in the middle of the roar—which I could feel rather than hear—was only part of the sound that is above and outside and beyond human hearing; it is supersonic.

I stared for a while at the powerful engine that is so simple—without pistons and without propeller, that has practically no vibration, and that can achieve such high speeds in flight.

Then we went outside. The first thing the technician said when we had taken off our ear-protectors, was: "You can't hear that noise when you're flying in a jet plane. It's behind you. All you can hear is the whistling of the air around the aircraft." And then he said something to me quite casually that almost startled me with the idea of it; he said: "We're going to have to make quieter aircraft."

ELIMINATE WHISTLING

"You see," he said, "up to now, we haven't made a quiet aircraft—because this whistling of the air was drowned by the noise of the engines. Now, if anything sticks out—like an astrodomer—it whistles. We'll have to tuck all these in now, so that we can travel quietly through the air." If you consider the implications of all this and the significance of that technician's words when he said: "We're going to have to make quieter aircraft," to say that a revolution is on, in aero engines, is an understatement.

Explorer's Paradise

Toronto Globe and Mail

Though maps can be bought which purport to show that all the continents have been discovered; that neither the Hudson River nor the St. Lawrence leads to China; and that man can sail around the world without retracing his route, the yearning to be an explorer appears to be as strong as ever. Evidence of this is found in the fact that each year thousands of people write to the National Geographic Society in Washington asking if they may become members of one of the society's exploring expeditions. These would be Livingstones and Magellans are, according to the society, people of all ages—male and female, small fry, college boys and girls, business men and mechanics, school teachers, farm boys and former service men. GLOBAL SURVEY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE VISIT of Brazilian President Eurico Dutra to the United States is a happy burst of sunshine through international storm clouds.

It is a symbol of a great friendship which cannot be too assiduously guarded in these days when the countries of the western hemisphere must stand together for the common good.

President Dutra's stay got away to a fine start when official Washington, aware that he was arriving on his 64th birthday, staged a surprise party—cake and all—with President Truman as guest host.

LONG-TIME FRIENDS

In an address before a joint session of the Senate and House, the general referred to relations between Brazil and the United States "as a rare example of fraternal association of two peoples which has prevailed over a period of more than 120 years." He spoke of President Truman's visit to Rio de Janeiro in 1947 for the signing of the historic inter-American defence pact, and said it was a memorable event in the friendship of the two countries.

"In the international field," said Dutra, "this friendship, through its practical manifestations and by virtue of its example, is the greatest guarantee of good understanding and comprehension among the other sister nations in this hemisphere."

Dutra said the inter-American defence pact "established the reciprocity of the American Republics in common bond against aggression." That is true—at least on paper—but he might have added that such an agreement to be effective must be supported by constant cultivation of friendships and study of ways and means to strengthen the association.

BRAZIL IMPORTANT

The visit of Dutra to the United States is, of course, an excellent illustration of how friendships can be cultivated. And naturally it is pleasing to see the two largest countries of the hemisphere moving in such close harmony.

However, we mustn't overlook that there are 19 other republics belonging to the hemisphere pact. That declaration of friendship shouldn't be allowed to lie fallow too long lest it lose its fertility.

A young German inventor is, he says, working on an automobile which will cost practically nothing to operate since its motor will run on air or water.

Now if someone else will just come along and transform those same inexpensive ingredients into T-bone, steaks, overcoats and building materials, we should be well on our way to beating the cost of living.

FOR MILK ONLY

Ottawa Journal
Needless to say, apparently there was a warning from a Hamilton doctor over the radio that some milk bottles were being used by unthinking persons to mix a poisonous chemical solution now in fairly wide use and that this made the bottles unsafe for further use. Dairy managers and a Government scientist in Ottawa seen by The Journal feel certain that modern bottle washing equipment, using boiling water under pressure and a caustic will completely sterilize any bottle.

LACK OF CONCERN

New York Times
When one considers how quickly man has been known to rise to defend his feathered friends against harm, the recent warning by the National Audubon Society that the improper use of DDT and other powerful new insecticides is killing off birds, bees and other useful creatures at an appalling rate seems to have been received with surprisingly few expressions of concern. Several years ago Dr. C. H. Curran, curator of insects at the American Museum of Natural History, created a stir by saying that DDT employed carelessly might prove to be more devastating to man's economy than the atomic bomb. Curators of insects have a way of being quietly but disconcertingly correct in their estimates.

What the Audubon Society and Dr. Curran are saying is that unless new insecticides are used carefully not only may we find our wild life vanishing at a startling rate but also in our lifetime we may see our modus vivendi severely shaken up. To be sentenced to live in a world where no birds sing is too great a punishment, even for fools.

Old St. Joseph's Makes Way For New

Workmen are demolishing oldest section of St. Joseph's Hospital off Collinson Street to make way for five-story centre section of new hospital where main entrance will be situated.

St. Joseph's Hospital is fast changing in appearance with old buildings being torn down and new ones appearing.

It is all part of a rebuilding program, planned as far back as 1945, which may cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

The oldest section of the hospital, a building housing the admitting quarters off Collinson Street, is being demolished by Sullivan Construction Company workmen, while cribbing for the new 128-bed wing off Humboldt Street is going up.

Hospital officials reported today the new wing is expected to be completed in time for occupancy by Christmas of this year. It will be four stories high and, like other new sections of the hospital, will be reinforced concrete construction.

The Collinson Street building being demolished, built in 1875, will make way for a five-story centre wing in which the administration offices of the hospital will be situated as well as laboratories, pharmacy and other services.

500 BED HOSPITAL

It also will have patient rooms with about 25 beds which, together with the new Humboldt wing, will give 150 extra beds to the hospital, bringing the total accommodation from 350 up to approximately 500 beds.

The new centre section in which the main entrance to the hospital will be located, is expected to be completed next year in time for special anniversaries of the hospital and the Catholic order of the Sisters of St. Ann.

100 YEARS OLD

On Sept. 8 next year it will be 100 years since the order was founded. The year also will mark the 75th anniversary of the founding of the hospital and the 50th anniversary of the founding of the training wing.

Present plans in rebuilding the hospital call for the erection of two wings to connect the centre section with the Humboldt wing and the Rupert wing in a V formation.

It is not known when a start will be made on the V wings.

First construction in the overall plan was building of a kitchen wing which was completed at Christmas time last year. This wing is being used temporarily for laboratories and other services, and for living accommodation for the nursing sisters of the hospital.

The nursing sisters gave up their quarters on the ground floor of the Rupert Wing several months ago to give additional space for hospital patients. Army huts were erected on the grounds of the hospital also to provide temporary accommodation for patients.

To Call Tenders Immediately For Fastening Arena Ceiling

Tenders will be called immediately for the fixing of fibroceck sheets to the ceiling of the Memorial Arena with metal anchors shot into the concrete with special guns.

This was the decision of the City Council's arena committee at a two-hour meeting Friday afternoon.

The plan will go before the entire City Council Monday afternoon for formal approval. Aldermen will meet with the arena committee this afternoon to hear details of the plan.

The method of fixing the sheets was recommended by the Seattle architectural and engineering firm of Naramore, Bain, Brady and Johanson which sent a representative to inspect the arena last week.

It was reported in the Victoria Times Thursday the Seattle engineers were making this recommendation, and it was predicted their suggestion would be followed.

TWO REPORTS

The arena committee, under chairmanship of Ald. Ed. Williams, senior member of City Council, studied a report of Charles T. Hamilton, Vancouver consulting engineer, as well as the Seattle report, before arriving at a decision.

The report of Mr. Hamilton, who has been employed by the city to supervise construction of the arena, differed greatly from that of the U.S. engineers.

The committee is sending Mr. Hamilton a copy of the Seattle recommendations.

All of the fibroceck sheets on the ceiling will be fastened with the gun-fired studs even though the American engineers said only three-quarters of the ceiling needed to be treated this way.

This was the only change the members of the arena committee made in the recommendations.

It was agreed it would be worth the comparatively small expense the extra work would entail to have the job done completely. Too many people were worrying about the sheets coming loose.

Estimates in cost were given by the engineers but the committee withheld the figures listed in view of the fact it had been decided to call tenders for the work.

'FINE ARENA'

There was no criticism in the report of the structural or architectural design of the civic arena.

"It is a very outstanding piece of work of which the City of Victoria and the designer can well be proud," the report stated. "It would be an asset to any city."

It was suggested that responsibility for the ceiling trouble should be carried by three parties—the city as owner, the consulting engineer Mr. Hamilton, and the roof contractors, Bennett & White Construction Company.

COSTS THREE WAYS

The report said the cost of repairs should be assumed three ways—one-fourth of the cost by the general contractor, and the balance divided equally between the city and Mr. Hamilton. "Under no circumstances should the fibroceck sheets be left unanchored as injury to one person by a falling sheet would more than offset the cost of being safe," the report stated.

The basis of all the trouble was, in the opinion of the engineers, the fact that the fibroceck sheets were not saturated in water before the roof concrete was poured over them.

"From the evidence it would appear that the contractor was lax in certain parts of his work and that the engineer made an honest mistake in judgment by being over zealous in keeping the fibroceck sheets dry to the detriment of proper fastening," they said.

It was questionable, the report continued, if the contractor could be held responsible for the failure of the sheets to adhere to the concrete since positive instructions were given by the engineer to keep them dry.

"The contractor, however, by reason of his construction experience, should have been more positive in his refusal to install the work as specified or requested," the report said. "Failure to take such a positive stand would be an admission that he should assume some of the responsibility as stated in his contract."

REBUST SHEETS

It was recommended that all loose ceiling sheets and sheets which have fallen be reinstalled by fastening with regular acoustical tile cement before the metal fasteners were installed.

The fasteners, or anchors, should be of a non-corroding material such as stainless steel or monel metal and similar to the Ramset Fastening System made by the Stemo Corporation of Cleveland, the engineers said. Six anchors should be fastened in each eight by four foot sheet.

"Had metal anchors been specified originally," the report said, "the owner would have paid more for the original work. If anchors are now provided as suggested, the owner will have the advantage of better and safer anchorage than originally specified."

In his report, Mr. Hamilton agreed that his instructions were that the fibroceck sheets must not be sprayed before concrete was poured against them.

"The reason for this is that the face of the sheet against the concrete has a cement paste surface and it is imperative that this face be held to the concrete by adhesion," he said.

If the face of the fibroceck was wetted, he continued, the chances were no adhesion would take place as there would be no suction property left in the fibroceck surface.

USE ASPHALT

Mr. Hamilton recommended that the entire ceiling be inspected closely and that all loose sheets be reattached with molten asphalt.

He placed entire responsibility for the problem on Bennett & White contractors.

"If the concrete had been properly placed there would be no question of the adherence of the fibroceck to the concrete," he wrote.

The Vancouver engineer objected to the use of studs through the sheets because washers on the ends of the studs would be unsightly unless all sheets were fastened with them.

And if all sheets were fastened this way the cost would be high unnecessarily as all the sheets did not require fastening, Mr. Hamilton stated.

First Aid Awards Presented Winners At Courtenay

COURTENAY—More than 100 attended the presentation of first-aid certificates and awards to prize-winners at Headquarters and Ladysmith operations of the Comox Logging and Railway Co. Ltd., held in Native Sons' Hall.

The R. J. Filberg Cup awarded annually to the best first aid student was presented to John E. Vaton and Alex Tillear, both employed at Headquarters, who will hold the cup for six months each.

David Guthrie was awarded the H. R. Grant Cup, emblematic of top honors for first-year first aid students. Presentations were made by John McQuinn, superintendent of local company operations. A. J. Taylor, safety director for the company, was chairman.

Persistence in acquiring a knowledge of first aid was stressed by Peter McLoughlin in a brief address. James Rough-ton, manager of the accident prevention division, B.C. Loggers' Association, also spoke.

I.W.A. Seeks 15-Cent Pay Boost, Medical Plan And Union Shop

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pay boosts of 15 cents an hour across the board for 35,000 British Columbia forest workers highlighted demands of International Woodworkers of America (I.W.A.) presented Thursday to B.C. coast lumber operators.

Wage contract negotiations are set to open July 15.

Other I.W.A. requests include: Guaranteed wages of $16 a day for fallers, buckers and shingle sawyers.

Twelve dollars a day for shingle packers. Payment for 10 statutory holidays annually. Reduction in board rates from $2.50 to $1.50 a day.

The I.W.A. also seeks new contract clauses covering vacations, welfare plans, and union security.

The vacation clauses ask for two weeks' vacation for men after two years' service, against the present qualifying period of five years, three weeks for those with five years' service.

A welfare plan, cost to be borne by the operators, asks for complete hospitalization, surgical and medical care, with sick leave at $20 a week for 52 weeks. A $1,000 life insurance and $1,000 accident insurance also are demanded.

The I.W.A. also wants a union shop, revised seniority clause and liberalized leave of absence.

Says Labor Must Support C.C.F. To Win Objectives

Predictors of "blue ruin" for Canada because labor is taking political action are as wrong as they were when they predicted disaster over the eight-hour working day, according to William Mahoney, western director of organization for the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Mr. Mahoney spent an hour in Victoria Thursday evening telling a public meeting why his labor organization was supporting the C.C.F. party in the forthcoming elections.

He spoke of the years labor spent going to the governments and to individual government members friendly to labor, in an effort to gain its objectives. Finally, he said, the C.C.F. having had the experience of going to the governments day after day, month after month, had decided it must take political action.

THROUGH POLITICAL PARTY
Canada, he said, had party politics, so the C.C.F. if it was to go into politics must do so through a political party. The only party, he added, who was ready to help labor's desires turned into legislation was the C.C.F. and so the support went to that party.

In supporting the C.C.F. he spoke of the need for increased security for the worker, warning that while negotiations had been easy of recent years, they were not going to stay that way because, while employees were negotiating inside, there would be unemployed on the streets outside.

If there was to be any balance of bargaining power between the employer and the employee, Mr. Mahoney said, the employee must have the knowledge of security. Herbert Gargrave, ex-C.C.F. member of the B.C. Legislature, second speaker of the evening and a member of the A.F. of L., said he was sorry the T.L.C. with which his union is affiliated had not recognized the need for political action along the lines of the C.C.F.

In reviewing his recent experiences in the B.C. Legislature, Mr. Gargrave leveled considerable criticism at the provincial government's treatment of the labor question.

He sympathized with former Labor Minister George Pearson and criticized the appointment of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer as Minister of Labor to succeed Mr. Pearson.

He described Mr. Pearson as the "doubtful father" of the contentious Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, which he referred to as the "miniature Taft-Hartley Act."

He called Mr. Pearson "the doubtful father," Mr. Gargrave said, because the former labor minister had his doubts as the act grew. The act looked much different, Mr. Gargrave said, "when the C.M.A. and the law"

All B.C. Forest Fires Now Under Control As Hazard Reduced

B.C. Forest Service officials reported today that all forest fires in the province were under control with the hazard generally reduced, but continuing high in the Parksville and Cowichan ranger districts.

The outbreak at Goat Lake near Powell River which spread to 25 acres Wednesday was brought under control today and fire fighters are mopping up.

Eight other outbreaks occurred Wednesday in the Vancouver forest district, including three on Vancouver Island, but all are under control or extinguished. The Cowichan, Parksville and Nanaimo ranger districts each had a fire Wednesday, but the Parksville blaze was extinguished and the other two controlled.

Three new outbreaks occurred in the Squamish vicinity but were extinguished and two more occurred in the Chilliwack district, bringing the number there to four.

In the Kamloops district five fires are burning and seven men are fighting them. The hazard there is described as low.

Nelson forest district has three blazes and the hazard is said to be low to medium.

No reports were available at headquarters here today on the fires in the Prince Rupert and Fort George districts but rain having fallen there Wednesday, officials at headquarters believe all fires extinguished or controlled.

A report from Ladysmith says the Comox Logging Company operations will resume as soon as highly dangerous woods in the district have been sufficiently dampened by rain. About 1,200 men have been left idle by the precautionary shutdown.

Camps in the Port Alberni area are scheduled to reopen today following rain.

Touring Premier Greeted By Crowds In Smithers District

SMITHERS (CP) — Premier Byron Johnson, leader of B.C.'s Coalition government, was greeted with flags and by cheering crowds Thursday as he continued his extensive tour of the province.

Unofficial holidays were taken and school children queued up to meet their Premier, the first time in six years a cabinet head had visited their territory along the Prince George-Burns Lake way.

He visited an Indian reservation, meeting a number of chiefs and their tribes at Fort St. James. One of the chiefs presented Mrs. Johnson with a hand-worked moose skin bag.

Here in Smithers, he told 350 citizens the Coalition government had made many achievements and said establishment of an aluminum industry in B.C. would bring innumerable advantages.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Doris Johnson, 55, collapsed in St. Margaret's Church Thursday night, a few minutes before her son was married.

She died on arrival at the General Hospital. The wedding of her son, Alfred, proceeded as scheduled.

Bleaker Housing Situation Seen When Notices Become Due June 1

OTTAWA (CP)—For some 6,000 families across Canada the bleak housing situation is going to become a lot bleaker come June.

That's the time six-month notices to vacate are up and landlords start to take possession of their homes.

However, a tenant can make it pretty tough for the landlord, too. If he fails to judge when eviction time is due—that is May 31—the landlord can't evict him without a court order.

In court he'll have to prove that he "needs" the home for himself and his family.

The entire business of what may result in a lot of court cases and a lot of moving around looking for new quarters started November.

The federal government eased its housing and rental controls and announced that any landlord who "needs" his home for himself, had purchased the home by March 1, 1947, and had given his tenant six months' notice, can take possession. The order became effective in November.

Since then notices of eviction have been piling up in the rental offices of Canada's Prices Board.

The largest number are from Montreal—1,745—with Toronto coming a close second with 1,520. In Ottawa 359 notices have been filed and in Winnipeg 122. Only 117 have been filed in Vancouver.

Free Enterprise

"The rights of private property and free choice of action under a system of private competitive capitalism, must continue to be the foundation of our nation's peaceful and prosperous expanding economy. Free competition and free men are the strength of our free economy."

Canada's CCL unions are affiliated with the CIO in the United States. But some Canadian leaders of the CCL are advocating Socialism. They take a position directly opposite to that of Scottish-born Philip Murray who is outspokenly opposed to Socialism, Communism or any form of collectivism.

Like William Green, president of the AFL, Philip Murray sees Competitive Free Enterprise as the foundation of the rights and security of organized labor.

Legion Delegates To Hear Resolutions At Convention

The British Columbia command of the Canadian Legion will continue the fight for increases under the Veterans' Allowance Act, with submission of resolutions at its annual convention which opens here Sunday evening.

David McKee, executive secretary of the command, which includes two branches in Washington and one in Oregon, states that the organization "is not happy about the increases made under the Veterans' Allowance Act."

He adds that it is felt a $10 increase already granted under the act was not nearly sufficient in view of the high cost of living. "This fight will continue," he stated.

More than 300 delegates will gather at the Royal Theatre for Sunday's opening ceremonies.

PUBLIC INVITED

The public is invited to attend. Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Banks, Premier Byron Johnson and Mayor P. E. George have been invited. The Premier, however, will likely be out of the city, but will be represented, probably by a cabinet minister.

Official opening of the convention, which will continue till Wednesday, will be by Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, past Dominion president of the Canadian Legion and a life member of the provincial command.

The Royal Canadian Navy band will perform from 7.30 till 8, when the ceremonies commence. During the evening, Paul Michellin will render selections on the electric organ.

The delegates, about 200 of whom are from outside the Victoria area, represent approximately 35,000 members of the 181 branches of the Canadian Legion in the British Columbia command.

Sunday morning, the veterans, led by the R.C.N. band, will parade from a forming-up point on Humboldt Street off Government to the Cenotaph, where a brief commemorative ceremony will be held.

Bernard Isman, provincial command president, will lay a wreath at the foot of the Cenotaph in memory of the war dead.

The parade will form up at 9.45 and move off at 10. In the afternoon, delegates will be taken on a tour of the Naval Dockyard, H.M.C.S. Naden and the Joint Services College at Royal Roads.

The Esquimalt branch of the Canadian Legion will act as hosts on the tour and will supply guides.

Business sessions open Monday morning at 9 at the Britannia branch auditorium, Blanshard and Cormorant Streets. They will continue until Wednesday afternoon, when election of officers will be held.

Social functions in connection with the gathering include a dance at the Crystal Garden Monday night and a wind-up banquet at the Empress Hotel Wednesday night.

Lawnmower As Taxes

GLENDARE, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Marie Spangler, who won $26,000 in prizes on a radio program this week has been told by the Bureau of Internal Revenue that she'll have to turn over 20 per cent to the government.

Inasmuch as she got no cash, Mrs. Spangler wants to know if Uncle Sam will settle for a $3,000 gold-plated lawnmower, one of the prizes. She doesn't have a lawn and thinks it might be just the thing for the president's.

Beach Problem Still Here

Little Gillian Kidd shows cameraman Bill Halkett the dangers facing children playing on beaches—broken glass, bottles, sharp-edged cans.

Thoughtless picnickers are not cluttered as badly as they were, before the city put a garbage crusher into operation and it is felt most of the trouble is caused by beach visitors leaving refuse behind when their picnics are over.

Most of the city's garbage dumped into the straits sinks to the ocean floor now, the city claims. A garbage crusher put into operation last year mangles tins and bottles so they will not float.

The little girl who posed for the picture on Dallas Road Beach is the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kidd of Saskatoon who is staking with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Winstanley, 433 Oswego Street, for the summer.

New Nanaimo Docks Based On Giant Sandstone Seawall

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES
NANAIMO — Mayor George Muir on Thursday snipped a white ribbon to open officially the new Canadian Pacific terminal wharf at which the Princess Elaine from Vancouver had docked shortly before.

A delegation from Vancouver, headed by Hon. Eric W. Hamber, former lieutenant-governor, and a director of the C.P.R., and George H. Baillie, vice-president of the railway company's Pacific region, arrived aboard the Elaine for the opening ceremony.

A party from Victoria, headed by Mayor Percy George, motored to Nanaimo for the occasion.

"This magnificent terminal is an important contribution not only to Nanaimo but to Vancouver Island as a whole," Mr. Hamber said at the opening ceremony. "It will unquestionably prove a great stimulus to tourist traffic here and to the general prosperity of the island."

VANCOUVER ISLAND DAY

In cutting the ribbon, Mayor Muir suggested this be called

"V I Day, for Vancouver Island Day."

"We expected a good terminal, but we did not expect anything on such a magnificent scale," he said. "Prosperity has come to Nanaimo."

Built at a cost of $1,700,000, the structure incorporates the latest facilities for handling passenger and freight traffic. The passenger station has waiting-room accommodation for 3,000 persons, while the freight shed provides an area of 26,000 square feet.

Nearby is a bus garage capable of holding more than 30 buses. Passengers from the Vancouver-Nanaimo ships have ready access to all points of the island direct from the terminal by train, car or bus.

BIG SEAWALL

A feature of the structure is a giant seawall made of native sandstone running beneath it, 21 feet in height and 22 feet wide at the base.

Another is the clock system. By means of an extra battery storage system, clocks can be kept running for eight days in case of power failure.

"This terminal is unique in that it has accommodation for four transportation systems—boat, car, truck and railway," Mr. Baillie said during an inspection trip of the buildings. "In building it the C.P.R. has provided for future growth and to judge from the progress of Nanaimo this plan will be amply justified."

Mr. Baillie paid special tribute to C. D. Mackintosh, engineer in charge of the building.

Others who spoke at an informal gathering of the various delegations were Ald. G. C. Miller of Vancouver; T. G. Norris, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade; Hon. George Pearson, provincial secretary and minister of health and welfare, and Victoria's Mayor George.

In the Victoria delegation besides Mayor George were Dr. A. L. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission; Len Woodhouse, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; Walter Miles, president of the Chamber of Commerce; M. W. MacPherson, deputy minister of public works; G. I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; and Harold Husband, general manager of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

GIRLS IN CYCLE RACES—As one of the special events on the May celebrations program, the Victoria Cycle Club has arranged a special racing meet which will be held on Saturday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park at 2.30. Word has been received that many Vancouver riders will be here to compete for the many prizes, which include the beautiful Brock Whitney Perpetual Trophy for the senior open event. Pictured above are the Victoria girls who will be taking part in the meet, from left to right, Lucille Rice, Nancy Beecher, Jessie Slater, Maureen Macabe and Ruth Miller. —(Photo by Campbell Studio).

Drew, McCullagh Charges On Aircraft 'Phoney', Says Howe

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe charged Thursday night that George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and George McCullagh, publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, were making "phony" statements in connection with the structure and performance of Canada's North Star aircraft.

Speaking at a Liberal nominating convention in the Carleton riding in the western suburbs of Ottawa, Mr. Howe said:

"I know it is difficult for a politician to challenge a newspaper successfully, but I should like to brand as malicious, false and wholly irresponsible, the stories that have been featured in the Globe and Mail—on the front page."

He told the convention, which chose John McDonald, 35-year-old Ottawa lawyer to contest the riding represented in the last House by Mr. Drew, that "ordinarily, it would be a pointless effort to deal at all with opinions expressed by these two men (Mr. Drew and Mr. McCullagh) on a subject of which they know nothing."

SHOULD KNOW FACTS

But since the decision to install British Rolls-Royce Merlin engines in Trans-Canada Air Lines new North Star aircraft now was "under bitter attack," there had been some doubt cast on the "reliability" of T.C.A. "services and equipment" and he felt he must place the facts "in their proper setting."

"It is a matter that touches all of us," said Mr. Howe, "since not just the government of Canada is being censured, but the government of Great Britain, many thousands of Canadian craftsmen, some of the world's great engineers and perhaps least important of all—myself."

He said one article in the Globe and Mail suggested "that the North Star and its magnificent Rolls-Royce engines are not first class." In his view, the North Star was "unexcelled in the world today" for "performance under all conditions of flying."

"Let me tell you that there is no finer or safer aircraft in the world today than the Canadian product—the North Star. If Mr. Drew and his friend could find a single authoritative opinion to the contrary, you would have heard of it long ago."

STATEMENTS BY B.O.A.C.

"Perhaps George McCullagh can be induced to print in his paper what senior B.O.A.C. (British Overseas Aircraft Corporation) officials told him about the North Star during his recent visit to England."

Regarding Canadair, which produces the North Star aircraft, "it is very difficult," said Mr. Howe, "for a private business to defend itself or its product against unprincipled and irresponsible comment of the type that has been levelled."

He said the policy of the Liberal government was to turn the government-owned wartime aircraft industry back into private hands once the war had ended.

"A great aircraft industry had been developed, with fine modern plants in Montreal and Toronto... when a large and successful American firm became interested in the plant at Carterville, where the North Star was being built, I was delighted."

PLANT LEASED

Mr. Howe said he made arrangements with that firm to lease the plant on terms favorable to the government.

"The company has been most successful, indeed," he said. "Over 5,000 men and women have been maintained in continuous employment at high wages. The aircraft, and parts and repair work, produced at the plant have been of the very pated that major sources of trouble, such as coolant loss, the sump pump, magnetos and other items, will be greatly improved in the next two months.

"In the meantime, it is desired that you adopt a relatively conservative outlook with respect to flight on three engines, having in mind the weather, availability of usable airports on the route, etc."

The Globe and Mail said the bulletin had been received by pilots flying the North Star. It did not say how the bulletin had come into its possession.

In Ottawa, Trade Minister Howe said he had no comment on the publication of the Bulletin.

REPRODUCE BULLETIN

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail today carried on its front page a reproduction of a Trans-Canada Air Lines flight operations bulletin. The bulletin, dated at Winnipeg Feb. 11, and signed by H. W. Seagrims, director of flight operations, dealt with engine failures in North Star aircraft.

It said:

"We are concerned over an increase in the number of engine failures with North Star aircraft."

"The situation is being very vigorously campaigned by both the engine manufacturer and ourselves with a view to rectification. As a result, it is anticipated that major sources of trouble, such as coolant loss, the sump pump, magnetos and other items, will be greatly improved in the next two months.

Coldwell Criticizes Housing Record

HALIFAX (CP)—Describing the housing problem as one of the chief issues in the June 27 Federal election, C.C.F. Leader M. J. Coldwell Thursday night accused the Liberal government of shirking its responsibilities in this field.

In a campaign address at the Halifax Forum, Mr. Coldwell said the Liberals had passed the buck to the provinces when confronted with the question of solving Canada's housing problem. He contended that the Progressive Conservatives have indicated they would do no more toward finding a solution.

"Both old parties agree that the way to avoid responsibility is to pass the buck to the provinces, which haven't the money to do the job," he said, adding that both Prime Minister St. Laurent and the Reconstruction Minister had described housing as a provincial responsibility.

Sisters Return To City For A Week's Visit

Mrs. St. Clair Harvey is a visitor in Victoria from London, England, staying at the Empress Hotel. She was accompanied from Vancouver by Mrs. Leonard Andrews. The sisters, remembered best in Victoria as Carol and Jean Tolmie, daughters of the late Hon. Simon F. Tolmie and Mrs. Tolmie, will spend a week here with relatives and visiting friends. They will then return to Mrs. Andrews' home in Vancouver where Mrs. Harvey will be a guest for the next three months.

Mrs. Agnes Steele entertained at her home on Sooke Road recently for her small daughter, Darlene, who was celebrating her seventh birthday. The table was centred with a pink iced birthday cake. Little guests included Georgina Hiscock, Dianne and Carol Phillips, Joan and David Allen, Kenneth Rhode, Marlene Whyte, Lynda Pollock, Patsy and Martha Mills, Dianne and Bobby Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Parfitt, 1312 Vining Street, entertained at a dinner party at their home on Tuesday evening in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William House of Maidenhead, England, who arrived in the city on Sunday. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Norris Harwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Parfitt, Misses Marlene and Linda Parfitt and Master Richard Harwood. Mrs. House, nee Vera Parfitt, left Victoria just over two years ago for England where her marriage took place. Accompanied by her husband she has returned to Victoria where they are planning to reside.

Mrs. G. Blackmore and Mrs. W. Harbison were hostesses at the former's home, 1319 Camosun Street, for a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening in compliment to Miss Ruth Stone, R.N., formerly of Kimberley, B.C., whose marriage is to take place at the end of this month. The gifts were attached to streamers from a model yacht, and the decorative motif throughout was in pale pink and mauve. Little Joy Diane Blackmore presented a corsage bouquet to the bride-elect. Guests included Mesdames E. Nix, J. Nix, E. McDowell, G. Pomeroy, V. Ferris, C. M. Bean, M. McMillan, V. Harbison, Misses T. Stewart, A. Alder, C. Bean, and Joy Diane Blackmore.

Of interest to their many friends in Victoria is the announcement in Vancouver that Senator and Mrs. J. W. deB. Farris with their son, Mr. John Farris and their house guest of recent months, Lady Symonds of London, Eng., are leaving this week-end for eastern Canada. Lady Symonds sails on the Empress of Canada for her home, while Senator Farris and his son are sailing on the Queen Elizabeth from New York for England. In their absence, Mrs. Farris will visit in the Maritimes.

A miscellaneous shower for Miss Dorothy Gammon, whose marriage took place last night, was held by Mrs. T. Williams at her home on Old Esquimalt Road. The honor guest was presented a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. E. Gammon, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. W. Foley, mother of the groom-elect, were also present. Mesdames E. Cantwell, J. Hay, R. W. Ray, A. Stockley, C. Whittle, A. Catt, L. Jackson, G. Exton, T. C. Sherwood, G. Burton, L. Cockrell, K. Harold, M. Hay, M. Granlin, F. Provencal, D. Smyth, Misses Ruth Gammon, May Bean, Olive Wilson, Mary Williams.

Guest Night—Members of Doreene McLeod Central Group of First United Church Women's Auxiliary held a guest night at the home of Mrs. H. Lindsey, 1525 Richmond Avenue. During business members agreed to assist the Oak Bay Group in sale of tickets for the Strawberry Social to be held in the church banquet hall. A committee composed of Mesdames F. Brown, J. Howell, A. Lomas and E. Conway, was named to bring suggestions for the fall fair, for the September meeting. Mrs. I. Smart introduced the speaker, Miss A. McLean of the children's aid society.

Make Arrangements For Second Prom Concert

Left to right, Mrs. Harry Gilliland, treasurer; Mrs. F. D. Mara, chairman; Mrs. A. Baker, secretary, and Mrs. Gordon Jennings, vice-chairman of the women's committee of the Victoria Symphony Society, are busy making plans for a second "prom" concert in the Bay Street Armory on May 25, commencing at 8.30 p.m., when the Victoria Symphony Orchestra conducted by Hans Gruber will again delight Victoria music lovers with a program of request numbers. Others on the committee in charge of arrangements are Miss Georgiana Wilson, Mrs. Alex Hendry and Mrs. Betty Botterell.

North Island Institutes Meet At Qualicum Beach

Two new institutes were welcomed at the North Island District Women's Institute meeting, held recently at Qualicum Beach. They were Kila-Anch from Englewood, V.I., and the Little Qualicum Institute. There was also good representation from Gabriola Institute, formed last year.

Mrs. J. A. Clowes, of Courtenay, presided and registration of delegates showed the meeting to be the largest on record. Speakers included J. Balcombe of the Family Allowance Board in Victoria, who addressed the gathering on various phases of his work; Mrs. T. W. Sutherland, CBC governor and member of the Royal Commission on Price Control at Ottawa, who talked of her work on the commission as it pertained to a number of projects including lumber, fishing, bread, fertilizers, textiles and types of clothing, findings of which have been published in several reports.

Mrs. Stella Gummow, provincial superintendent, spoke of valuable work done by institutes and announced that Mrs. R. Sayre of Ackworth, Iowa, president, Associated Countrywomen of the World, was in Germany at present studying conditions among women and that she would report on her findings at the meeting of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada to be held in Regina this summer. British Columbia winners in the Tweedsmuir Cup contest were also announced by Mrs. Gummow as follows: Village history, Telkwa, first, and Little Fort, second; essay, "Institutes Take a Forward Look," Summerland, first, and Pemberton, second; hooked wool rug, Summerland, first, and Cedar, V.I., second. The six provincial winners will be sent to Regina to compete in the national competition for the cup.

Mrs. Clowes was re-elected president of the group with Mrs. T. H. Williamson, Courtenay, secretary; Mrs. J. Isbister, Denman Island; Mrs. M. Theis, Bow Horn, directors, and Mrs. H. Morgan, Qualicum, vice-president. An interesting ceremony was the presentation made by Mrs. Gummow, on behalf of Qualicum Beach W.I., of a china bowl to Mrs. W. Marshall, pioneer women's institute member, who has distinction of being mother of two W.I. presidents, Mrs. C. Kennedy, Qualicum, and Mrs. Williamson, Courtenay.

Resolution Endorses Coalition Candidates

Victoria Women's Progressive Conservative Association went on record Thursday afternoon as unanimously endorsing the Coalition candidates in the Provincial election.

The Conservative women met Thursday afternoon in new headquarters, with Mrs. R. D. Harvey presiding, and passed the following resolution: "In view of certain events which have occurred and the consequent misapprehension, we members of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association of Victoria wish to go on record as endorsing the Coalition candidates in the forthcoming provincial election."

Gordon Cameron, federal candidate, was guest speaker, and Denis Hagar and Whitworth Stanbury also spoke briefly. Women were urged to help in the coming election by Mrs. Gordon Cameron. Reports were given by Miss Roxana Alexander, education; Miss Lottie Bowron, United Nations; Mrs. C. H. Smith, convener of the Hilda Hesson luncheon, and Mrs. Sinclair Elliott, membership.

Shower Of Dimes

Mrs. Effie Tomlinson announced the Shower of Dimes total as $10,475.90 at a meeting of Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League, held in Hotel Douglas Board Room. Miss Peggy Wharton stated that $153.70 had been realized from checking in the past year. Members discussed plans for the forthcoming annual dinner, and Miss Beth Walker reported on plans for ushering at Starlite Theatre. It was announced that R. Askey and members would visit the Solarium Saturday, taking games for the children.

Post-Graduate Work

Miss Maud V. Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wallace, 519 Rithet Street, who returned recently from Vancouver where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree at University of British Columbia, majoring in psychology and sociology. Miss Wallace will leave for Northampton, Mass., in September, where she takes post-graduate work.

Girl Guide Notes

East District—Plans for the annual East District garden party to be held June 11 in the gardens of "Wilnot House," the home of Major and Mrs. Keith MacDougall, 1670 Hampshire Road, were made at a meeting of the East District Girl Guides, Local Association. Members stood in silence, in memory of the late Mrs. Curtis Sampson, president of the local association.

Cooking, Candy Sale—Catholic Women's League realized $50 from a sale of home cooking and candy held in the basement of Mount's store, Granges, Salt Spring Island. Conveners were Mesdames H. Sjoquist and A. E. Marcotte, assisted by Mesdames G. St. Denis and B. Lafleur.

O.E.S. Tea, $200 Aids Cancer Station

A sum of $200 was realized at the Maytime Tea, earlier this week, sponsored by five chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star, in the E. of P. Hall, Cornorant Street. Proceeds will aid the Victoria O.E.S. Free Cancer Dressing Station.

Conveners from each of the five chapters welcomed the 300 guests, among whom was Mrs. Grace Shane, Vancouver, Past Worthy Grand Matron, Provincial Worthy Grand Matron, provincial director of the project. Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Margaret Bland and her committee.

Those at the guest table included Mrs. Nancy Hodges, who opened the affair; Mrs. Jessie Hitchens-Smith, P.W.G.M.; Mrs. Shane and Mrs. Doris Watson.

Mesdames A. O. Cioke, G. S. McMoran, W. S. Davey, W. L. Llewellyn, F. Prior and A. E. Rigby poured tea. Entertaining with vocal selections were Mrs. Olive Batchelor, Mrs. Mabel Corbett, and Mrs. Margaret Grodte, accompanied by Mesdames Buckler, Lily Wright and A. Jackman, respectively.

On behalf of the Eastern Star Choir, Mrs. Kathleen Hilton presented Mrs. D. Watson with $100, proceeds from the choir concert held recently.

Club Calendar

Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Monday, at 6.30, Chinese Mission, Pembroke Street, for Chinese supper; business to follow.

Catholic Women's League, Victoria, membership tea, Catholic Women's League, Victoria, yearly membership tea, Monday from 2.30 until 5 p.m., Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company.

Y.P. Societies

Chinese United—"What Do We Mean By Good?" was the interesting theme chosen by Miss Gertrude Aitkenhead, Y.W.C.A. counsellor, when she spoke at the May meeting of the Chinese United Y.P.U., held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ko. Noreen Hong presided, and Kay Peat led the singing and Sylvia conducted devotions on the theme of "Importance of Worship." Muriel Lee was in charge of games, and later refreshments were served by the hosts.

Ward Six—A feature of the May meeting of Ward Six P.T.A. was a concert program presented by the North Saanich Musical Society. Thanks to the society and its conductor were extended by Arthur Voege and Mrs. R. Tubman, who presented bouquets to Miss Amy Walton and Mrs. J. M. Gyllenspetz. During the business session, treasurer J. Newton reported net proceeds of $226 from the recent country fair held in the Mount Newton School. The meeting voted a sum of $45 for awards to the Keating Elementary School, and a like amount to the Mount Newton School. Arrangements were made to proceed with the completion of the Mt. Newton tennis courts for which one tennis net had been donated by G. Preston. Mrs. R. Tubman was appointed to co-operate with the Agricultural Society in arranging school entries at the fall fair.

St. Saviour's Garden Fete—Members of St. Saviour's garden party committee met recently to make further plans for the annual parish garden party to be held at the home of Alderman and Mrs. C. F. Banfield, Craigflower Road, July 6, from 2 to 5. Organizations in the church sponsoring various stalls include: home cooking, Afternoon Branch, Mrs. B. Jacklin; white elephant, Mrs. C. Clarke; fancywork, Mrs. G. White and Mrs. T. Wilson; candy, Altar Guild, Miss K. Goodall; fruits and flowers, A.Y.P.A.; teas, Evening Branch, Mrs. F. Steele and Mrs. H. Shandley; afternoon midway, Men's Club, C. Clarke.

Y.M.C.A. Linen Show Draws Many Guests, $120 Realized

Many gifts of linen and a sum of more than $120 was realized at the annual linen shower held yesterday in the Mural Room at the Y.M.C.A., under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the "Y".

Auxiliary president, Mrs. Donald MacDale received the many guests. Mrs. J. D. Davidson and Mrs. A. Dixon were in charge of linen donations; Mrs. Walter Walker, the guest book and Mrs. Ray Parfitt and Mrs. George Brown, the silver bowl. Decorations, arranged by Mrs. J. H. Brown, featured attractive displays of lilac and tulips. The tea table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred with white lilac and red tulips, flanked by tall white candles in crystal candelabra.

Mrs. Percy E. George, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. J. Davidson and Miss Kathleen Agnew presided at the urns; Mrs. J. V. Johnson was in charge of tea arrangements and the service corps included Mesdames E. T. Kenney, E. Rowbottom, F. Winterbottom, G. M. Duncan, F. J. D. Clark, W. Martin, and B. Carruthers.

A musical program, in charge of Mrs. R. D. McCaw, included piano solos by Malcolm Hamilton; vocal solos by Peggy Walton Packard and Donna McCabe and two piano numbers by Marilyn and Janice Bacon and Muriel and Vivian Trimble. Malcolm Hamilton acted as accompanist.

Money And Tour Design-Awards

MARGATE, England (CP)—Two hundred pounds and a tour of Europe came to pretty, 19-year-old Nancy Marsh of Margate School of Art, daughter of an Elvington collier. And all because she likes to design things. As a relaxation from dress-designing, Nancy designed a pair of walking shoes and a handbag with original pockets. They each won £100 ($400) in the Royal Society of Art's competition—the first time that both prizes have been won by the same student. And Nancy is the youngest to get either.

On the European tour—Paris, Brussels, Geneva and maybe Vienna—Nancy will see how bags and shoes are made in each country.

Umbrella Jab Lands 'Auntie' In Court

LONDON (CP)—Aunt Lucy, who is a bit on the elderly side, jabbed a middle-aged man in the stomach with her umbrella. He resented the jab, and said so in a flow of violent language. Aunt Lucy, who never could stand swearing, raised her umbrella and brought it down on his head.

And that's how she came to be fined 10 shillings ($2) in police court. "How was I to know he only approached me to get some change for the telephone?" she asked the magistrate.

Song For Charity

VANCOUVER (CP)—A lullaby written by a Vancouver nurse in aid of the Children's Hospital here is being published by a United States firm. Nurse Elizabeth Clarke is donating all proceeds from her song "Bluebird on My Window Sill" to the hospital drive.

Officers Named At L.O.B.A. Annual Meeting In Vancouver

Mrs. H. Gill of Vancouver was elected Grand Mistress of the Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of British Columbia of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association at the 27th annual meeting held in Vancouver this week.

Others elected are grand deputy mistress, Mrs. E. Wells, Vancouver; grand junior deputy mistress, Mrs. H. Miller, New Westminster; grand chaplain, Mrs. I. Bezan, Burnaby; grand secretary, Mrs. R. Graham, Nelson; grand treasurer, Mrs. E. Clark, Silverdale; grand deputy secretary, Mrs. E. Hume, Victoria; grand deputy treasurer, Mrs. R. Doe, Salmon Arm; director of ceremonies, Mrs. M. Taylor, Penticton; grand senior lecturer, Mrs. E. Griffiths, Chilliwack; grand junior lecturer, Mrs. G. Olds, Nanaimo; grand juvenile director, Mrs. A. Middleton, Vancouver; auditors, Miss P. Hamilton, Vancouver; Mrs. L. Ferguson, Duncan, and Mrs. A. McKinnon of Trail.

Mayor C. Thompson of Vancouver extended a welcome to members attending from all parts of the province. Mrs. M. Thomas presided over the sessions, assisted by Mrs. H. Gill.

Ritualistic work was exemplified by Juvenile Orange Association Tuesday evening. Sessions concluded Thursday with installation of officers.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Fred Trent and her children have returned to their home at Chemainus after visiting Mrs. Trent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown, 1149 Faithful Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Derek Todd returned to the city Thursday following a two-month trip in the east. The couple who were married here in March, left by plane for New York on their honeymoon, and made their return journey by motor. At present they are staying with Mrs. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Friker, Chambers Street. Mrs. Todd is the former Noreen Friker, and her husband is the son of Mrs. William C. Todd and the late Mr. Todd of this city, and grandson of Mrs. Butchart and the late Robert P. Butchart.

Study Book—Mrs. G. Cook gave the review on the study book when Esquimalt Women's Missionary Society met in the schoolroom. Mrs. E. King, president, was in the chair. Devotional period was given by Mrs. A. H. Stelek. Afternoon tea was served.

Fairies To Dance At Garden Library Fete

First row, left to right, June Hardie, Nancy Clarke, Jocelyn Young; second row, Marilyn McElmoyle, Wendy Sanderson, Jeanie Burns; back row, June Oakley and Vivian Briggs. This group of young dancers from the Wynne Shaw School recently topped the intermediate ballet group in the B.C. Provincial Drama Festival.

Once again, seven queens will be crowned in the fifth annual "C" for Citizenship pageant entitled "Through the Garden Gate," to be presented at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of May 24 in the attractive garden of Mrs. G. Lessey Pollard, 1210 Tattersall Drive, under direction of Mrs. W. W. McGill. Names of the queens are Spring, Art, Literature, Drama, Health and Race Friendship.

The affair is under the distinguished patronage of His Honor The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, Premier Byron Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, Hon. R. W. Mayhew and Mrs. Mayhew, Hon.

W. T. Straith and Mrs. Straith and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pendray.

A children's choir from First United Church will be featured in the entertainment this year, under direction of Mrs. Roberto Wood.

Proceeds from the affair will be sent to the Save the Children Fund.

Women Want Stability, Says Head Of London Bureau

LONDON (CP)—Although one in every nine marriages in Britain ends in divorce, London marriage bureaus say they are enjoying a boom comparable to that which prevailed at the end of the war.

Heather Jenner, principal of one, said the reason might be that "in a world that is unsettled politically and economically, single people feel the need of a partner."

"It is probably a sign of the times, too, that women applicants nowadays are more insistent on the stability of a man's job."

Women of 25 to 30 form the largest age group and most of them "seek men of 40 and over who are well-established in business or professional life."

Other agencies report a marked increase in the number of women waiting to go to Canada and Australia as brides.

BUDGETARY INFLUENCE

"I think Sir Stafford Cripps' last budget may have had something to do with this," said the manager of a small west-end bureau. "Many women tell me they are sick and tired of conditions in Britain and are unwilling to raise families here."

He said the average age of male applicants is about 30 years and six months. Almost without exception, men look for domesticated, home-loving women, six or eight years younger than themselves.

"There are rare exceptions," he added, "where we have actually introduced men to women two years older and matrimony has followed. But as a general rule we avoid doing this."

Many marriages arranged through bureaus end in divorce. When this happens bureau managers generally feel it is a reflection on the efficiency of their methods.

"It takes years of experience to discover what types of men and women are most likely to be suited," said Miss Jenner, who has been running her bureau for 10 years. "Since 1939 we have arranged about 3,000 marriages. I am particularly proud of the fact that only two of these are known to have ended in divorce."

Present Photograph—Worthy Sister Fairhurst of Princess Alexander Lodge No. 18, presented a framed photograph of King George to Worthy President of Primrose Lodge, Sister A. Anderson, when members of Primrose Lodge No. 32, Daughters of England, met in the K. of P. Hall. Three new members were initiated. It was announced that the annual church service would be this Sunday at St. Alban's Church at 7.15.

Dorothy Dix

BACHELOR SHOULD REMAIN SINGLE, AS HABITS SET

Dear Miss Dix: I am a bachelor in my late 40's and feel that the time has come when I should marry and have a family. What age woman would be the most suitable for a wife?

L. T. D.

Answer: I agree with you that if you are ever going to marry, you had better make it snappy and do so within the next year or two. A widower, who has been housebroken, so to speak, and who has learned from experience how to adapt himself to the whims and peculiarities of a woman, may safely marry up to three score years and 10, but not so the bachelor.

Never having had anyone but himself to consider, he is almost sure to grow selfish. Never having to subordinate his own taste and inclinations to another, he develops "ways" and habits that make him miserable to have broken up. He becomes faddy about his eating and finicky about his belongings, and a wife gets on his nerves and worries him to death.

A man who has remained a bachelor until he is almost 50 years old generally does well to make the remainder of the journey in single blessedness because no matter what good qualities a woman has, they do not compensate him for the breaking up of his routine of life.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WATCH BABY'S SHOES FROM THE START

The right kind of shoes, hose and booties are essential from infancy, if the child is to grow up with a foot that is unmarred by painful or unsightly blemishes and deformities.

The effort to keep the foot healthy begins when the baby does his first pair of booties or socks. Since wool is certain to shrink some in washing, it is to be expected that woolen booties will soon be outgrown and will have to be discarded.

To push the baby's unresisting, fragile-footed foot into these short, tight hose or booties is to run the risk of altering its shape disastrously.

When the baby begins to stand on his feet he needs a foot covering that will protect his soles from being injured. He may not need support; then as much as he will after he has begun to walk, but he will get a feeling of security if he wears shoes, the soft, moccasin type, as soon as he is old enough to stand up.

When he begins to walk around his pen or the living-room, with aid, he needs a stiffer-type shoe. There are innumerable good ones made by all kinds of manufacturers under various trade names, but they have similar attributes. The shoe will have a straight inside edge, it will be wide-toed, have a soft, thick sole that is flexible enough to be bent double in the hand and it will be high and laced.

Since it is possible for the baby to outgrow these shoes within six weeks, it is well to provide only one pair at a time and let him wear them until they are outgrown. Unless money is no object, to try to keep the baby in "everyday" and "good" shoes is impossible. He should not wear the old dress-up shoes for everyday, as presumably they will be too short for him.

The mother should make a point of examining the baby's feet when she removes his shoes for his bath or at night. Note if they are free of all pressure marks or blueness which might indicate a too-tight shoe. Babies have been made to suffer monstrously because the mother did not recognize when the shoes had been outgrown.

Mrs. D. F.: I think you'll find that up to four years of age, and even then for play shoes, the high-laced shoe is far the best type.

Our leaflet No. 74, "Desirable Punishments," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Clubwomen's News

Servinus—Members of the Servinus Group of the Metropolitan United Woman's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. A. H. F. Stelek, Old Esquimalt Road, with Mrs. J. G. Jones, president, in the chair. Final plans were made for a salad bowl luncheon to be held on June 10 in the Metropolitan Church schoolroom. Mrs. P. Bewell in charge of the afternoon's program read a group of poems. Tea was served by the hostess.

West Coast Travel—Canadian Daughter's League, Assembly No. 5, heard educational convener, Mrs. A. Stinson, speak of her trip along the west coast of Vancouver Island, continuing her study of Canada, when they met recently, with Mrs. N. Milburn presiding. Mrs. G. Ralston reported on the Local Council of Women meeting, and Mrs. M. Gardiner spoke of the "I Am a Canadian Day" meeting she attended. Mrs. I. Hood and Mrs. K. Frazer were welcomed into the assembly.

Cooking Stall—Report that a small cooking stall held recently realized a sum of $20 was made at the monthly meeting of Ganges Chapter, I.O.O.F., held at the home of vice-regent Mrs. G. St. Denis, St. Mary's Lake, Salt Spring Island, who also presided. Conveners were Mrs. F. Newham and Mrs. W. M. Mount. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $107.38. Standard-bearer Miss D. Beddis spoke on the recent provincial convention. Members discussed the annual garden day in June and Mrs. E. Adams announced a large parcel of clothing had been sent overseas. Tea hostesses were Mrs. D. Simson and Miss Beddis.

Keeps regular now with famous cereal

Is constipation a serious trouble with you? Then read this unolicited letter:

"I was sick with constipation. I reached the point where no sort of pill helped. Then my mother said I should try KELLLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. So I began eating ALL-BRAN every day. It's hard to believe, but I am regular now!"
Mrs. Lucien Kelly, 8 Deslauriers Street, Quebec.

You, too, may forget you ever had constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Simply eat an ounce of KELLLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily and drink plenty of water. St. Laurent Asks Canada For Mandate To Continue Dominion's Expansion Era

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent placed the "highlights of our Liberal (election) program" before the people Thursday night and asked for a new federal mandate to govern a Canada that "is just at the opening of a great new era of expansion."

In an address broadcast nationally from this New Brunswick rail-hub city he said Canada's trade outlook "is far brighter than it was at the end of the war," and stands at levels considered beyond belief in 1939. The St. Lawrence Seaway, part of a broad program of construction projects, has been "delayed too long."

The government had asked the provinces to make proposals for federal aid in providing locally-managed, low-cost rental housing, promised a "vigorous" housing policy and pledged full federal co-operation with the other two levels of government in carrying it out.

Mr. St. Laurent said his party will persist in seeking "a national standard of social security and human welfare which assures the greatest possible measure of social justice to all." A new Liberal government would consult the provinces to work out jointly a method to amend Canada's constitution to wipe out a final taint upon her sovereignty.

Mr. St. Laurent asked, in effect, for re-election of his party so it can carry forward aims it already has enunciated—some of them snagged, he said, at the Dominion-provincial conferences, which have become a big election issue.

'PEACE AND SECURITY'

He asked for a mandate to "continue to work for peace and security, for trade and prosperity, for full employment and social development of all aspects of our national life."

Step by step Mr. St. Laurent outlined these points:

National Security—The first concern of government should be national security, and there can be none "if there is any great power bent on aggression and domination."

The conduct of Russia had led 12 nations to "combine their strengths because they really want peace," the sole aim of the Atlantic Pact.

Trade—Canada has recognized that the economic reconstruction of western Europe is "an essential condition of our own lasting security and prosperity."

The record of Trade Minister Howe should be remembered, and "don't forget what happened to trade in the '30s" when a Conservative government was in power.

Liberal governments "have a remarkable record of trade expansion." Many postwar difficulties were dealt with. Relations with the two great outlets, the United States and Britain, "have never been better and we are confident that solutions can be found to the problems of keeping up mutually advantageous trade."

Full Employment—Next to fear of war, "the fear of depression and unemployment is the most disturbing fear in the minds of ordinary men and women." Canada's employment stands at record levels, "and maintenance of full employment is just as much a Liberal objective as it was in 1945."

Most Canadians don't want government interference in their affairs but expect the government to help create conditions to encourage enterprise and create jobs.

Full employment for "primary producers means good markets." There has been "the added security of floor-price legislation." The government "will do all it can" to encourage establishment of new industries and expansion of existing industries. Peacetime industry has never expanded as much as it has in the last four years and the expansion is still going forward.

To meet "possible emergencies" the government has been "making plans for public works projects and projects for national development of our varied resources in all parts of the country." Some of these will be kept on the shelf until needed to provide work.

"The government feels that some construction projects like the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway and power development have already been delayed too long. We would like to see St. Lawrence development started just as soon as the United States is prepared to agree."

The Trans-Canada Highway will be "advanced without delay once the necessary agreements are reached with the provincial governments."

Quebec and Labrador iron ore, Alberta's oil and mineral discoveries through that country "are all indications that Canada is just at the opening of a great new era of expansion."

JOBS IN HOUSING

Housing construction also will provide a lot of jobs "for a good many years." Canada's building record surpassed all others but demand still exceeds supply. The government "is not going to be satisfied until decent housing is provided for every family."

Although housing is primarily a local and provincial responsibility, the federal government has given a lead in meeting the problem under the National Housing Act. The government is "not trying to usurp responsibility," but is "ready and anxious to co-operate in providing low-cost housing."

Social Security—Security and prosperity are the imperative prelude to social security, but social security also means old age and blind pensions, unemployment insurance, floor prices and family allowances, all "introduced by a Liberal government." Both the pensions and allowances were recently increased or expanded.

"The Liberal Party has introduced practically all the social security measures we have."

Health grants to the provinces "are tangible proof of the desire of the federal government to co-operate with provincial authorities."

"The Liberal Party is committed to support a policy of contributory health insurance to be administered by the provinces. We want to see such a system established as soon as we have the health facilities to support it. But under our federal system, to get health insurance started the people and the governments of the various provinces have to take the initiative in working out plans adapted to local conditions."

HEALTH SERVICES

Lack of agreement at the Dominion-Provincial Conference of 1946 "has prevented us from taking effective action to assist the provincial and local authorities to improve health services and increase hospital facilities."

The government will continue to seek agreement and the old people will "be more impressed by the action of the party which started the pensions than by the promises of the party which, for so many years, was not very favorable to them."

Autonomy—complete recognition of Canadian nationhood and development of "all aspects of our national life" are party aims. Canada's adult nationhood has never been fully recognized in her constitution of laws. As long as domestic disputes have to be settled finally "in the courts of another country"—the Privy Council in London—Canada will not be "in all respects a fully autonomous nation." A bill to make the Supreme Court of Canada the final court of appeal was introduced at the recent session of Parliament and will be introduced again at the first session.

It won't be easy but "a method should be worked out to amend the constitution in Canada."

SAFEGUARDS NEEDED

"We do not want the constitution to be too rigid, but we do want to make sure it contains the fullest safeguards of provincial rights, of the use of two official languages and of these other historic rights which are the sacred trust of our national partnership."

"It is our intention after the election, to consult the provincial governments with a view to working out a method, which will be satisfactory to all Canadians, of amending the constitution in Canada."

The government can and should "give encouragement to those things which are distinctly Canadian in the arts and literature" and a royal commission has been named to point the way for "development of all the talents and abilities of our peoples."

Alberni Candidate Out

One name was added and another was subtracted Thursday from the list of candidates for the June 15 B.C. general election.

In Port Alberni John Langley Mosdell, who Tuesday announced he would be a candidate as an Independent, Thursday withdrew from the contest. The 53-year-old vice-president of the Port Alberni Ratepayers' Association who split with the C.C.F. over the Japanese question some years ago reported he was withdrawing in favor of James Mowat.

Mr. Mowat, who represented Alberni in the last Legislature, lost the Coalition nomination to Thomas W. Christie, president of the Comox-Alberni Federal Liberal Association. Mr. Mowat, however, Wednesday announced he would be an Independent candidate.

The Alberni contest is now slated as a four-way battle. The candidates are Mr. Christie, Mr. Mowat, Nigel Morgan, L.P.P., and Jack Whittall, C.C.F.

Thomas King, 69-year-old Golden farmer-merchant and father of six children, who has represented Columbia in the Legislature for 18 years and who announced during the last session of the Legislature he would not again be a candidate, was formally nominated in Golden Thursday as the Coalition standard-bearer.

He won the nomination in a five-way fight with Owen Bird, Golden; J. S. Bakley, Radium Hot Springs; J. Speakman, Field, and Dr. F. E. Coy, Invermere. Mr. Bird, following the ballot, moved that the nomination be made unanimous.

The only other candidate named for Columbia is Thomas Alton, C.C.F.

Two members of the last Legislature have ventured election outcome forecasts for public consumption. Don Brown, Coalition candidate again in Vancouver-Burrard, predicts the government will win 42 of the 48 seats. Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. candidate again in Mackenzie, foresees a highly different outcome. He believes the C.C.F. will win 28 seats.

San Francisco's Cable Cars Must Stay---Attractive For Tourists

CLANG, CLANG, CLANG go San Francisco's ancient cable cars as they creak and groan over the roller-coaster terrain of California street. The newest battle between a traffic expert and the sentimentalists doesn't even seem to slow them down.

By AL OSTROW

SAN FRANCISCO—The battle of the cable cars is raging all over again in San Francisco.

Are the picturesque little hill-climbers, well-known to many Victorians, an integral part of the color and flavor of the cosmopolitan city by the Golden Gate? Or are they just a costly, hazardous traffic menace?

The argument has been simmering for decades. It has just come to a boil again after the curt report of a traffic expert, hired to make a $20,000 survey of the city's transit system.

Arthur C. Jenkins, consulting engineer who revamped the Los Angeles mass transportation lines, branded the cable cars "antiquated" and "a nuisance."

"The only value of the cable cars in the present world of mass passenger transportation," he declared, "is for museum purposes. They would serve well as a model line in Golden Gate Park, or for a few blocks to Coit Tower, as a means of preserving a remnant of this novel type of transportation. The city streets of San Francisco, however, are no place for a museum piece."

IN HORSE ERA

The cable cars, he said, were designed for an era when the only other traffic vehicles were horse-drawn, and now are "the last word in lack of safety devices."

Anticipating the protests of sentimentalists, who succeeded in writing a clause into the city charter that the cable cars must be preserved, the engineer declared there was "no more logical reason to keep the cable cars in regular service" than to operate the Pony Express as a historic link.

The transit report roused the defenders of the little dinkies. By phone and mail, they bombarded City Hall.

"The people have declared at the polls that they desire the continuance of the cable cars by a plurality of 171,000 to 51,000," asserted Mrs. Hans Klussman, a doctor's wife who headed a committee of clubwomen which led the successful drive to write preservation of the cables into the city charter. "We serve notice now that the decision of the people of San Francisco will be upheld."

Cable cars climbing Nob Hill and dropping down to North Beach and Fisherman's Wharf are one of the city's major tourist attractions, she declared.

Mayor Elmer E. Robinson, admitting that the cables are an expensive luxury, but quite aware of the two-sidedness of the controversy, stated that the cost was probably small compared to the free advertising the little cars bring the city. He then hustled down to the foot of the Powell Street hill to participate in a ceremony marking the start of a cable car on a trip to the National Railroad Fair at Chicago.

Former Mayor Roger D. Latham tried to induce the voters to junk the cable cars, but was badly beaten on this point.

Michael Riordan, a former police chief, said the cars "strangle, suffocate, impede and conglomerate traffic. If we're going in for sentiment, why don't we have horse-drawn fire engines?" He didn't last long as police chief.

The Public Utilities Commission, which operates the municipally-owned transit system, wants to replace the cable cars with twin-engined buses. It still hopes to convince San Franciscans that "dinkies" should be put out of their misery, but hasn't much hope of success until the last cable car falls apart.

This may not be very far off, Jenkins warned, because the cars are obsolete and spare parts difficult to find. Mrs. Klussman's committee reported that they'd supply the parts, if necessary, to keep the cable cars running.

Retailers Spend More On Advertising

HAMILTON (CP)—Retailers now recognize newspaper advertising as a greater force behind sales than ever before, John Giesen, director of the retail division, American Newspaper Publishers Association's Bureau of Advertising, said today.

Mr. Giesen, one of the speakers at the retail clinic of the international affiliation of sales and advertising clubs conference scheduled tomorrow, arrived here today.

He said in an interview that retailers now are investing more money in the medium which produced sales. He saw no ceiling at the moment on retail advertising programs in newspapers.

Sally Annes Will Still Wear Bonnet Despite New Look Hat

NEW LOOK FOR SALLY ANNES—They may go for the new type hat on the left in eastern Canada, but in Victoria it will still be bonnets for services and parades.

The Salvation Army girl's bonnet is safe.

News from the east that the women of the army would be replacing the bonnet for a new look, navy blue felt hat, similar to ones the navy girls wore during the war, was clarified locally by Maj. C. J. Milley, press relations officer at Victoria.

"I have seen those new hats down east, but they are only worn around town and not for services or parades," said Maj. Milley. "If the girls want them they must order the hats themselves."

He agreed it would not seem quite right without the bonnets, "stiff and old-fashioned," though they may be, according to the story from the east.

"They are made in England of fine straw and cost between $15 and $20," Major Milley said. "My wife has had hers for 20 years—the same hat." It is easy to see why male members of the army are not anxious for a change in fashion.

look at your home through the eyes of a stranger

Could it do with a good coat of paint and a general 'fix up'?

Strange how we are apt to notice signs of neglect in someone else's house and overlook the same things in our own. It's a costly tendency, too.

For one bit of disrepair soon leads to another. Wood deteriorates when the paint wears off. A broken post undermines the whole fence.

It pays to make your repairs promptly.

That goes for indoor improvements, too. You save money, time and material, by attending to home repairs right away—before the damage gets worse. And every improvement adds to your comfort and to your pride in your home.

If you need more money than you have on hand to pay for the necessary repairs, see your B of M manager about a low-cost loan. Save by paying cash. And save yourself trouble by paying off all your repair bills at once.

Why not make a list of the repairs your house needs today?

Then discuss your improvement plans with your B of M manager... in confidence. You'll like his helpful attitude.

Duncan Council Refuses $300 Offer

DUNCAN—A special meeting of the Municipal Council of North Cowichan was called Wednesday to consider a power right-of-way.

The council decided not to accept the $300 offered by the B.C. Electric Railway Company for a right-of-way, involving 19 acres of the municipality, to transmit power from Nanaimo to Victoria.

It was suggested by the council that a sum of $1,000 would be more acceptable.

E. V. Laver Heads Duncan Chamber

DUNCAN—Duncan Chamber of Commerce elected E. V. Laver as president for the coming year, at its Tuesday meeting.

N. H. Gourley, vice-president, and Allen Hall, secretary-treasurer, were both re-elected. Councillors will be: F. G. Alder, J. B. Creighton, Ed. B. Evans, H. Lowe, A. J. McKelvie, H. Marsh, O. E. Quailley, S. A. Seyler, and A. J. Stewart.

E. Laver, N. Gourley, and W. W. Seymour were delegated to attend the meeting of the Associated Vancouver Island Boards of Trade at Nanaimo June 21 and 22.

Nanaimo's 75th Birthday To Be Marked In Gala Style

Proud as Punch of its past—and deeply confident of the future—Nanaimo breaks loose next week in what has all the earmarks of a hectic Nanaimo holiday.

The 10,000-population centre is celebrating May 21-24 75 years of cityhood and the 100th year since coal was discovered.

The holiday will come in a four-day jamboree featuring sport, airshows, parades, a visit by two U.S. destroyers and traditional Nanaimo-type exuberance.

No longer does the city reign as the North American Pacific coast town. But a central position on Vancouver Island plus a $13,000,000 pulp and sulphite plant expected to be completed next year are indications a new day is looming.

One indication is the trend away from terming Nanaimoites "coal-towners." The vague, any self-respecting citizen will tell you tartly, is "hub-towner."

Tradition wraps the city—from the old Hudson's Bay citadel, still standing over the sheltered harbor, to the first-generation descendants of English miners who still walk briskly through the twisting streets and past the park's totem pole.

BLACK ROCKS UP COAST

From the day an Indian told a blacksmith, working where British Columbia's capital Victoria now stands, of the black rocks up coast, the spot was earmarked for participation in international commerce.

Development of the extensive coal deposits was begun by the Hudson's Bay Company and expansion by private companies continued to lure sailing ships and later steam vessels from throughout the world.

English miners were imported to work the diggings where in 1887 a disaster occurred that still ranks as Canada's worst mine accident—An explosion killed 148 miners—96 whites and 52 Chinese—while others less serious dotted later years.

But in losing gradually the benefits of coal, the district has turned to other native advantages. Agriculture to some extent and particularly timber and pulp production are anticipated in greater degree each year. Nor has coal production ceased by any means.

Running throughout the jamboree there should be the spontaneity of a logger fresh from the backwoods to spend his earnings. But recognition of a senior position in British Columbia's history and commerce should be just as evident if the past holds true.

Sickness Faked By Many Canadians To Get Travel Dollars

OTTAWA (CP)—Thousands of Canadians—masquerading as sick—try to wrangle a lot more than the $150 yearly Foreign Exchange Control Board allows for travel in the United States. Usually they don't succeed.

Officials of the board said Wednesday in an interview that the task of sorting the sick from the well "is a difficult, thankless job." Between 80 and 100 applications are received daily for health travel in the United States.

The board rejected 1,121 applications in the six months ended last March, sometimes engineering accusations of "interfering with personal liberties." The rejections meant a saving of $1,500,000 in hard-to-get U.S. dollars.

At the same time the board granted 5,225 applications for health travel, allowing the ill to take $6,800,000 out of the country.

Duncan Kinsmen Elect W. Allester

DUNCAN—W. W. Allester, principal Duncan elementary school, was elected president of the Kinsmen Club of Duncan for the 1949-50 club year.

Elected at the same time were J. Rae, vice-president; F. P. Clarkson, secretary; G. Dyson, treasurer; H. Filmer, registrar, and N. Carter, A. Heaslip and H. Linnell, directors.

M. M. Hopton, president, congratulated the incoming executive and pointed out that the completion of the children's playground is still the club's main objective.

The new officers will be installed in September.

DON'T LET BAD SPLIT MAKE YOU NERVOUS

Today everybody is talking about psychiatry and being psychoanalyzed. I had an interesting talk recently with Dr. William G. Niederland, staff physician at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York City.

He is the author of a recent book, "Man-Made Plague," a primer on neurosis, published by Renbale House, New York. Dr. Niederland has the distinction of having three medical degrees to his credit, one in Germany, one in Italy and one in the state of New York.

He has written two other books on psychology, but "Man-Made Plague" is the first he has written for the layman. When I looked through it, I was impressed with the statement that people must learn the joy of living and relaxing. He points out that many people are more tense and taut than ever when playing bridge, and therefore they do not get the joy of relaxation out of the game.

If you pick up a hand that breaks badly, as today's hand did, do you become nervous? Sit back and enjoy the game anyway, and maybe you will find a way to make the contract.

Rolfe Guides Detroit Into Second Position

Red Rolfe is winning his spurs as a successful big league manager at Detroit.

The former New York Yankees third baseman, who never managed any baseball team except Yale University until this spring, has his Tigers in second place, two games behind the American League-leading Yankees.

Rolfe set up a pitching "big four" of Hal Newhouser (4 to 2), Virgil Trucks (5 to 1), Ted Gray (3 to 1) and Freddie Hutchinson (2 to 2). He confined Dizzy Trout to relief work. Old Diz has been generally effective in 11 bullpen assignments.

Hutchinson, who turned back Washington with seven hits yesterday, 10 to 1, is as handy with the bat as he is on the mound. Hutch drove in three runs with a single, double and triple.

Detroit picked up a full game on the Yankees who were dropped by Cleveland, 3 to 2, on a terrific slugging display by Larry Doby. The Indians' Negro outfielder smashed a 450-foot plus homer—said by veteran observers to be the longest ever hit in the Yankee Stadium—as Steve Gromek shaded Bob Porterfield.

Doby's blast in the second inning cleared the 20-foot bleacher wall and landed in the seventh row of the centre field bleachers. Later he hit a single with the bases loaded in the fifth to break a 1 to 1 tie.

BERRA HITS HOMER

Gromek gave up eight hits, including Yogi Berra's third homer of the season.

A jittery defence cost Boston Red Sox a 10-inning ball game, on an error by first baseman Billy Hitchcock on Vern Stephens' throw. The Red Sox made four errors in the game but Hitchcock's was the big one that gave Chicago a 7 to 6 margin.

Rookie Grover Bowers, who had four hits, opened the 10th with a single. He was sacrificed to second and scored on Joe Tipton's grounder to Stephens when Stephens' throw glanced off Hitchcock's glove for an error.

Homers by Don DiMaggio, Al Zarilla and Birdie Tebbets were wasted by Boston. It was Mickey Harris' loss and a first victory for Specs Klemm, recently acquired by the White Sox from the Yankees.

Boston Braves and New York Giants, tied for first place in the National League for an entire week, remained deadlocked. The Braves came up with two runs in the ninth to top Pittsburgh 3 to 2, and the Giants bumped Cincinnati 6 to 2.

Vern Bickford of the Braves won his own game with a ninth-inning single, scoring Phil Masi, to climax the two-run uprising. Sheldon Jones also picked up his fifth victory for the Giants although nipped for 13 Cincinnati hits. Johnny Mize's ninth homer and a two-run double by Walker Cooper sent Johnny Vander Meer down for his third loss.

Brooklyn, sizzling through the west with three straight victories, moved into a third-place tie with Cincinnati on Preacher Roe's 2 to 0 shutout of St. Louis.

Virginia Barrie of Oaklands School makes her winning leap of 13 feet 8 inches in the girls under 13 broad jump of the preliminary field events of the annual elementary schools' track and field championships at Vic High grounds yesterday. Track events will take place at Macdonald Park Monday starting at 1.30.

Almond Uncorks Too Much Power For Tommy Rhett

VANCOUVER (CP)—Classy Stan Almond, newly-crowned Pacific Northwest bantamweight champion, Thursday night handily defeated Tommy Rhett of Oakland, Calif., in his first title defence.

Almond, who at 116 had four pounds on his colored opponent, used his vicious left repeatedly throughout the 10-round main event. He floored Rhett in the third and hurt him badly in the sixth.

Almond tried all the way for a knockout but couldn't put across the clincher. He dazed the Oakland boy in the 10th and appeared to have him. Rhett, however, again came back and traded, although none too effectively.

In the semi-windup, Paul Kennedy of Portland-Ore., punched out a six-round decision over Sgt. Dick Evans of McChord Field, Wash. Baby Ray Jones, Fort Lewis, Wash., defeated Pinky Cowan of Spokane in another preliminary, and Stan Almond's brother, Frankie, started the card with a second-round T.K.O. over Joey Edmonds of Fort Lewis in the featherweight class.

Oak Bay Sets Pace In Prep Ball Loop

Two more victories will give Oak Bay High the Interhigh Baseball League title as the squad notched its third straight shutout victory Thursday by edging Esquimalt 1 to 0.

In a second game Mount View scored its first win of the season by trouncing Mount Douglas 9 to 3. Sharing the spotlight in the Oak Bay victory were hurler Paul Beck and Ken MacKay. Beck limited dockyarders to a lone single in the second inning while taking 12 on strikes. Winners pushed over the only run of the game in the last of the first frame when MacKay opened with a single and pulled up at third on Roy Derry's one-bagger. A double steal followed with MacKay on the pay-off end.

Short scores follow: R. H. E. Esquimalt 0 1 0. Oak Bay 1 3 0. Fleming and McConchey; Beck and Smith. Mount Douglas 3 6 2. Mount View 9 3 1. Evans and Wakelyn; Carter and Kozak.

Cycle Races Planned At Beacon Hill Park

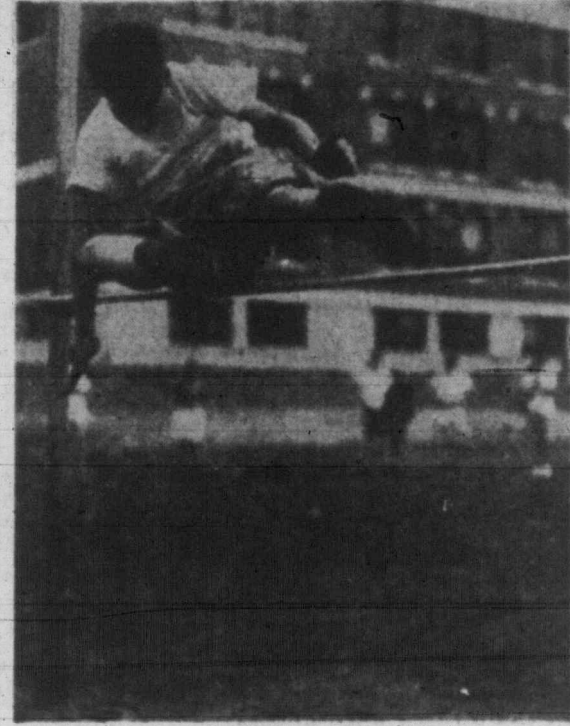

Victoria Cycle Club will hold a series of races at Beacon Hill Park Saturday with the feature event being a .15-mile race for the Brook Whitney Cup. First race will start at 2.

There will be a five-mile race for riders who have not won three class B races or one class A race. In addition the program includes a one-mile junior girls' race, a two-mile junior boys' race and a three-mile senior girls' race.

Entry forms are available at city sporting goods stores. All entrants must have amateur cards.

JOINS SPOKANE CLUB

SPOKANE (AP)—Joey August, boxing coach and trainer at Gonzaga University, was signed today as trainer of the Spokane club in the Western International Baseball League. August trained the team last year and replaces Melton Williams, who has returned to his home in California.

Little Leroy Bobroake of Esquimalt shows nice form in clearing the bar at 3 feet 8 inches in the junior boys' high jump. Bill Oldham won the event with a jump of 4 feet 4 inches.

Greco, Marshall Here Next Week

"You could probably class it as 'old home week,' although in the true sense of the saying such is not the case. But next week Dick Greco and John Marshall will be visitors in Athletic Park as the A's play host to the Tacoma Tigers and Bremerton Bluejackets.

The Tigers come to town for the first part of the week-long stand, meeting the A's in single games Monday and Wednesday and in a split double, bill Tuesday, May 24. The Jackets hit town the latter part of the week for single games Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Getting back to Greco. The big guy is back with Tigers after a whirl in the Coast League and is up to his old tricks of battering down opposing teams' fences. Dick has had his outfield troubles in Athletic Park, but fans won't soon forget that blow that hit the lights in centre field last season. One of the most familiar sayings around the W.I.L. when a visitor hits town is "That's where Greco hit one."

JOHNSON COMING

The Tigers also have another colorful personality in big Bob Johnson, their manager. Johnson, late of the 1948 Seattle Rainiers, was a long-time batting star in the American League and sees action this season mostly as a pinch hitter at which role he is quite adept. Latest addition to the club is hard hitting Eddie Barr, down from the Portland Beavers.

Mention the word Bremerton Bluejackets and everyone thinks of John Marshall and Alan Strange, the curvballing right-hand, who gets a real going over every time, he takes the mound in Victoria, and Strange, the fiery manager of the acid tongue, who spends half the night in the umpires' hair. Of necessity the Jackets have other players too, but for the color, it's Marshall and Strange for the crowd's money.

Adverts Trim Red's; Foresters, Navy Win

Manager Wally Yeamans of Red's Service said earlier this week he would drop his team from its present senior A status in the Women's City Softball League to a senior B rating. And the announcement came none too soon.

Last night at lower Central game to Adverts, losing 11 to 6. Adverts jumped on Red's Ruth Oster for two runs in the first inning and three in the third to take a five-run margin. Red's got two back in the third, added another pair in the fourth and a brace in the seventh.

Winners increased their total with two tallies in the fourth and four in the seventh. Marion McCulloch went the route for the Adverts.

In a senior B men's game, Forest Products nipped Westinghouse Airways, 10 to 8, with all the credit due to relief pitcher Bob Lyons.

Lyons was called into the game in the fourth inning with his club on the short end of an 8 to 1 score. He hurled one-hit ball the rest of the way and delivered the game-winning blow with a three-run homer in the last half of the ninth.

Royal Canadian Navy turned back Post Office, 9 to 3, in a men's senior C game.

CRICKET MATCH

Oak Bay cricket team will travel up-island tomorrow for a league match against Cowichan. Play will start at 2.30. Oak Bay line-up follows: Sparks, Scott, Vyvyan, Higgs, Grant, Higgs, Thornton, Doidge, Roberts, Wolfe and Deane.

A's In Third Place As Logue Tames Capilanos

Bill McAllister Plays For Royals

Bill McAllister, star goalie of Victoria United in the Coast Football League, will play with New Westminster Royals in the Dominion Cup series. In making the announcement today McAllister stated he was not leaving the city but was just transferring to the Royals for the cup competition. It was also reported John Pickburn will go to the Royals for the series.

McAllister's action is evidence the United does not intend the playdowns for the Canadian championship. United will likely make its last appearance of the season in the May 24 tournament at Nanaimo.

Seattle Suffers Shutout At Hands Of Leading Stars

When San Diego wins, Hollywood wins.

For that reason, it looks more and more as if the Stars can stay atop the Coast League until the Padres can try the knocking-off personally when the two open a seven-game series in Hollywood June 7.

Rain held league play to two games Thursday night. Southpaw Art Schallock doled out six hits to give the Stars a 4 to 0 shutout win over Seattle. Xavier Rescigno pitched a five-hitter, and Luke Easter poled his 14th homer for a 5 to 3 San Diego win over San Francisco.

The Stars got only seven hits themselves in winning but bunched them for two runs in each of first and third innings. Seattle threatened three times but couldn't come through. Lefty Bob McCall, making his first start since leaving the Boston Red Sox, fanned five in his six innings on the mound for the Rainiers.

San Diego made all of its runs in the first six innings against Elmer Singleton who previously had gone 19 scoreless innings in league play. The Padres staved off Seal rallies in the seventh and eighth.

Hollywood 4 1 0. Seattle 0 0 0. Schallock and Easter; McCall, Oppinger (7) and White. San Diego 5 12 0. Rescigno and Easter; Singleton, Oakes (6) and Parise.

Joe Kirkwood Jr. Ties Locke With Sub-par Round

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A husky young movie actor on a golfing vacation matched strokes with the best in the pitch-and-putt business today as a definite threat to win the $15,000 Philadelphia Inquirer tournament.

Joe Kirkwood, Jr., in the movies he enacts Joe Palooka—shared the first round lead with Bobby Locke, the South African who currently is the hottest thing in professional golf. Each posted a four-under-par yesterday.

Strung out behind them with cards ranging up to the high 80's was a field of 122 that included most of the sport's big names.

Additional 18-hole rounds are scheduled today, tomorrow and Sunday—over the 6,670-yard Whittemar Valley Country Club course.

In addition to Kirkwood and Locke, 10 others bettered the course's 72 par. Eight had par and 28 in all were within five shots of the leaders.

Kirkwood, after his fine round, declined a prediction on how he will finish.

His father, Joe Kirkwood, Sr., has traveled the world giving exhibitions of trick golf shots.

NAVY GOLF. CPO Scott took medal honors in the qualifying round of the annual R.C.N. Golf Association tournament at Gorge Vale yesterday, with an 84. CPO Dear was runner-up with an 87.

Vic Buccola touched off a first-inning four-run outburst with a massive home run last night and the Athletics went on from there to defeat Vancouver Capilanos, 6 to 1, in the first of a four-game series in the mainland bandbox, Capilano Stadium.

Sharing the honors with Buccola, who also provided the fielding gem of the evening by picking a foul fly out of a spectator's lap in the sixth inning, was bespectacled Frank Logue, who tamed the Caps with a four-hit mound performance.

And to make the evening complete the result put the surging A's into third place in the W.I.L. standings, moving the club past Bremerton and Vancouver.

Frank Matoh opened the big first frame by greeting Costello with a single. Buccola then lifted one out of the park and the A's were on their way. After loading the bases with the help of a single by Jacobs a Vancouver error and a base on balls, Costello walked Russ Walseth and Logue in succession to force in two more runs.

JACOBS HOMERS

Another Capilano "boot" enabled the A's to tally a single marker in the second frame. Ray Jacobs sewed it up in the fifth with another towering blast over the right field screen.

Bob McLean, string-bean first baseman of the Caps, scored Vancouver's lone run and picked up two of the four hits from the offerings of Logue.

YAKIMA WINS AGAIN

Around the rest of the league, the big question is "who is going to stop the Yakima Bears?" Joe Orongo's club ran their season's record to 22 wins in 26 games last night by outlasting Wenatchee, 11 to 9. The defeat toppled the Chiefs into last place. Dewey Soriano was called in to quell a Chief uprising in the eighth.

In the only other game on the schedule, Tacoma whipped Bremerton Bluejackets and John Marshall, 8 to 2.

Shore scores follow:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Bremerton	2	11	.154
Tacoma	1	12	.077
Marshall, Frank (5) and Constantino, Oakes (6); Lator and Warren.	11	14	.441

Defending Champion Eliminated In City Women's Golf Play

Mrs. H. T. Matson of Colwood and Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria club captured semifinal matches in the city women's golf championships at Victoria club Thursday.

Mrs. Matson won her way into the 18-hole final by defeating the defending champion, Mrs. Art Dowell of Colwood, 5 and 4. Medalist Margaret Todd trimmed Mrs. G. E. Harris 7 and 5.

In first-flight competition Mrs. T. Harris defeated Mrs. F. C. McPherson 2 up, and Mrs. J. H. Wilson eliminated Miss N. O'Connell 1 up. Second flight finalists are Mrs. H. Paterson and Mrs. C. L. Harris.

Seattle Ice Team To Operate Again

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle Ironmen will operate again this fall and winter in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, owner Frank Dotten announced today.

He said he had reached a new financial agreement with J. Philip Lyette, ice arena leaseholder. Dotten had threatened to withdraw this season unless lower rental was obtained.

Meanwhile league president Al Leader announced league directors will meet in Portland Sunday to complete the makeup of the circuit.

Victoria's franchise probably will be discussed.

Senior Ball Carded

Eagles and Boosters will hook up in a Senior Amateur Baseball League tussle tonight at Beacon Hill Park, commencing at 6.30. A win for the Boosters would move the four teams into a tie with a win and loss each, but a victory for the birdmen would give them a good start towards the pennant.

Baseball Has No Place For Pitchers Who Aim At Batter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—President Ford Frick of the National League says any pitcher in the league found guilty of deliberately aiming a pitch at a batter will be barred "for a season or maybe for life."

"I'd be just as tough on a manager who ordered such a pitch," Frick said. "But in my 15 years as head of the National League, I've never had to make such a decision."

Frick made the statement to a reporter yesterday. Asked about the incident here April 27 when Stan Rokjok of Pittsburgh Pirates was struck on the head by a pitch of Ken Johnson of St. Louis Cardinals, Frick said:

"My umpires made a thorough report of this affair and expressed belief Johnson was not throwing at the batter. In fact, they even pointed out that the ball was almost a strike, but because Rokjok was crouched over the plate, it hit him in the head. Stan just froze up there, they said."

Members of the same teams exchanged words and almost came to blows in another game at Pittsburgh last week.

Newcastle United In Smart Opening Stand

MONTREAL (CP)—Newcastle United opened their North American cross-country exhibition tour with a 4 to 1 victory over Montreal All Stars before 15,000 soccer fans here Thursday night.

Held scoreless during the first half when they seemed lost under the floodlights, the Englishmen rallied strongly in the second half to score all of their goals. It was their first experience playing under lights.

Jack Milburn, centre forward, scored twice, while George Rob-

Andy Menyes, playing inside right, scored for Montreal.

The crowd showed little in the way of enthusiasm during the first half, but the classy performance put on by the visitors in the last half stirred the fans into action. The applause increased with each goal counted by Newcastle.

Next engagement scheduled on their Canadian tour takes them to Toronto for a game there May 24.

Robinson's Great Hitting Comeback Embarrasses Veeck

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bill Veeck, boss of the Cleveland Indians, may be charged with baseball's trading boner of the year if Washington first baseman Eddie Robinson keeps up his present pace.

The 29-year-old Senator, who came here in a winter-time deal which sent Mickey Vernon to the Indians, slammed his seventh homer of the season last night to give his club a 6 to 3 victory over Detroit.

Robinson has built up one of the best baseball comeback stories of 1949 in the last three weeks. Soon after the season started, Manager Joe Kuhel bought first baseman Herman Reich from the Indians for $10,000 and put Robinson—then hitting .161—on the trading block.

But the day Kuhel announced Reich's purchase, Robinson rapped out two hits. The next day he paced the surprising Washington attack with four hits in a twin bill at Philadelphia. He opened the Chicago series with a home run.

Robinson now is batting .316. He has knocked in 22 runs, scored 17, and has rapped out six doubles and one triple.

Meanwhile, Mickey Vernon is hitting around .250 for Veeck's team.

Reich went back to Cleveland on waivers nine days ago and Robinson has continued to lead the surging Senators at the bat.

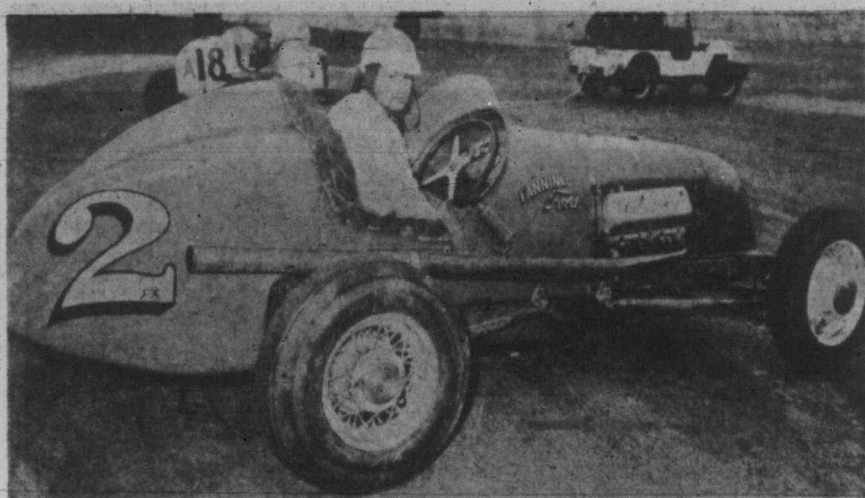

Swedish Athlete Draws Reprimand

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Swedish miller Lennart Strand has been barred indefinitely from competition outside Sweden because he participated in an unauthorized tour of Germany.

Strand, who was second in the 1500-meter run in the 1948 Olympics, is the star of a 12-man Swedish club team now touring northern Germany.

The team was originally sent to Denmark by a Malmoe club. The Swedish Athletic Association said that despite warnings the team proceeded to Germany. This violated rules of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, the Swedish group ruled.

Returns For Saturday's Auto Races

Second in last week's main event Del Fanning will bring his speedster over from Seattle to participate in tomorrow night's events at the Langford Speedway. Fanning intends to remain here for the holiday program at the track the night of May 24. Another strong entry from the United States for tomorrow night will be Duke Ramsay's new Dreyer powered with a $2,500 engine. Shorty Schovel of Portland is slated to drive the Dreyer. Gene Fanning will be back with his No. 4 which Digger Caldwell piloted to first place in last week's feature. There will be the usual strong entry of local cars. Time trials will start at 7.

Foul Bay Outroughed By Jokers, But Win

You can still read about the forthcoming May 24 parade, but you had to be at Stevenson Park last night to witness the lacrosse game and see the parade to the penalty box put on by Jokers and Foul Bay. After the teams had finished "knocking each other about," Foul Bay were on the long end of a 7 to 6 score.

A total of 52 minutes in penalties was handed out by referees Tom McKeachie and Doug Bray. Jokers receiving 36 and Foul Bay 16. In addition, Larry Booth of Jokers received a match penalty in the third period.

JOKERS LEAD

The game itself was close all the way with neither team having a lead of over two goals at any time. Gordy Ellis of Jokers gathered in a pass from Ralph Temple at the opening faceoff and bounced a shot past Al Thompson to put his team on the score sheet. Three minutes later Ellis picked up a loose ball, cut in on goal and bulged the hem again to put Jokers two up.

Jackson Walker, who early in the season is making it known that you don't necessarily have to be big to play the game, took a bounce pass from Dick Chumgranes and scored Foul Bay's first goal. The first period ended with no further scoring.

Foul Bay scored three goals in a row after the start of the second period. Art Green, playing his first year in senior company, scored the tying goal at the 55-second mark from a scramble in front of the net. Wilf Scott made it 3 to 2 for Foul Bay at 4:20 and two minutes later Bob Aitken gave his team a 4 to 2 lead.

TIED AT HALF
Larry Booth of Jokers slipped out of the penalty box, took a long pass from Kenny Banks and roared in alone on the Foul Bay goalie, faked him out of position and made no mistake as he put the ball in the open side. Red McMillan of Jokers came from behind his own net, ran through the whole Foul Bay team and rapped in a goal and the score was now as even as a set of false teeth at 4 to 4.

That ended goal-getting in the first half, but the players were only getting warmed up for the things that were to come in the third period.

BAYS GET ROUGH
"Buckshot" Thomas gave Jokers the lead again at the 1:20 mark, but 20 seconds later Vic Sage of Foul Bay tied it up at 5 to 5.

A minute later Andy Brown, Jokers, received a 10-minute penalty for using the butt-end of his stick. Walker of Foul Bay was thumbed off for two minutes on the same play when caught slashing.

From this point on it seemed that every time the attacking team reached the defending team's area, a defender went off on a penalty. In succession, for Jokers, two-minute penalties were handed out to Kenny Banks, Larry Booth, Ralph Temple, Gordy Ellis and Brian Thompson. In addition Booth received his match penalty handed out by Tom McKeachie.

Sandwiched between the Jokers penalties were two for Foul Bay, each of two minutes' duration, one to Don Thomas and the other to Walker, his second of the period.

Penalty timekeeper Tony Harrison was having a busy time at this juncture, and a "rhubarb" developed in the penalty box as to whose time was up and who should go back on the floor. Getting back to the game, Art Green of Foul Bay scored the tie-breaking goal at 5:35, and the

Royals Extended Tremendous Welcome By Montreal Fans

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 15,000 admiring Montrealers greeted the Memorial Cup champion Montreal Royals on their arrival here last night from Winnipeg where they captured the Dominion junior hockey title.

Wearily, but happy, the band of youngsters who defeated Brandon Wheat Kings in a record eight-game final, were met by two military bands. Then they were paraded through crowded streets in open cars.

A squad of mounted police preceded the cars in which the players stood up waving their 10-gallon western hats to the crowds.

Traffic in the downtown area was disrupted for more than an hour when the milling thousands overflowed into the streets.

Royals gave the Wheat Kings credit "as the best team we ever met."

Captain Bobby Frampton, who carefully guarded the trophy throughout the trip from the west, was the first player to step off the train. He carried the trophy high above his head to the delight of thousands of on-lookers.

It again for Clemson—two homers in one inning... The oddity is that all three of the double-clutters, Cox, Marich and Mathews, are left halfbacks in football... Those guys weren't just hitting the pitches, they must have been intercepting them.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—A "long-range tip" offered to this column says the All-America Pro Football Conference will be back with eight clubs for the 1950 season... No word as to where the eighth is coming from—or why... Col. Earl Holt, whose Oak Ridge (N.C.) Military Academy prepped Wes Ferrell and a few others, for major league baseball, has come up with another fine prospect. He's Billy Joe Davidson, a 16-year-old, 218-pound fast ball pitcher... The shoulder pain which caused Ike Williams to postpone his 7½ per cent title match against Enrique Bolanos, came along while Ike was at a dinner. Must have been a heavy meal.

WHITE OF HIM
Ben White has won the Hambletonian stake four times, but if Ben White wins this year it won't necessarily be the fifth... One of the eligibles is a horse, Ben White, named after the veteran trainer. He'll be driven by Charlie Thomas if he starts in the buggy whip derby.

PAINFUL SILENCE
Early this season when Duke's baseball team visited Clemson, Carol Cox of the home team hit two home runs in one inning... Later, Georgia came along and Eli Marich of the visiting team performed the same feat... Then it was South Carolina vs. Clemson and Ray Mathews

Seek Clearance For Canadian Jockeys On U.S. Tracks

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Association of State Racing Commissioners agreed today to investigate the case of Canadian jockeys who are prohibited from riding in the United States unless they are under specific contract with an American stable.

The situation was brought up by James Heffering of Toronto, president of the Incorporated Canadian Racing Associations, an affiliate of the national commissioners group.

"We extend our facilities to United States riders and really need them in Canada," Heffering said. "But, due to immigration laws, our boys cannot have the same privileges in the states. Our boys sometimes take exception to this."

"All we wish is to enjoy the same privileges in the United States as American riders have in Canada."

Earl J. Moyer of Madison, Nebr., newly-elected president of the group, said the matter would be taken up by the association.

Two of the most prominent riders in the United States, Ted Atkinson and Johnny Longden, are Canadians.

Pulp And Paper Technicians Open City Convention Today

Victoria today became the home of the 1949 joint convention of the Pacific coast branch, technical section, of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, and the Pacific coast division, the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents' Association Inc.

Today, delegates visited and toured the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd., and played golf at the Royal Colwood Golf Club.

Saturday morning they will begin their business session. First item on the agenda is a technical program on paper making, starting at 9, in the Empress Hotel, and to be moderated by H. B. Urquhart of the Powell River Co., Powell River. Papers to be presented at this session have been prepared by Mr. Urquhart and F. R. Riley, also of the Powell River Co.; R. Riley of the Crown Willamette Paper Co. division of the Crown Zellerbach Corp. of West Linn, Ore., and J. V. Venables of the Port Angeles division of the Zellerbach Corporation.

At 11, there will be separate business meetings of the Canadian and American delegates.

At 12.30 there will be a luncheon meeting with an address by Paul Cooper, chairman of the western branch of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association and also a member of Pacific Mills Ltd., Vancouver.

The technical program will continue at 2 in the afternoon at a pulping session, with Sidney Collier, Puget Sound Pulp and Timber Co., Bellingham, Wash., as moderator.

Papers have been prepared for this session by Donald B. Lloyd and Morely E. Paterson of Pacific Mills Ltd., Ocean Falls; Carl Hand, Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd., Port Alberni, and J. V. Savage, Crown Willamette Paper Co. division of the Zellerbach Corp., Camas, Wash.

PREMIER TO SPEAK

Saturday evening there will be a reception and banquet at which Premier Byron Johnson is scheduled to be the speaker.

Officers of the Canadian organization at the convention are: H. Ostrowski, Pacific Mills Ltd., Ocean Falls, chairman; John Guthrie, B.C. Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd., Woodville, vice-chairman, and W. R. Dickie, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the U.S. organization are: H. R. Russel, Everett Pulp and Paper Co., Everett, Wash., chairman; L. D. McGlothlin, Crown Willamette Paper Division of the Zellerbach Corporation, Camas, Wash., first vice-chairman; L. R. Hartman, Weyerhaeuser Timber Co., Pulp Division, Everett, Wash., second vice-chairman; A. C. McCorry, St. Regis Paper Co., Kraft Division, Tacoma, Wash., third vice-chairman, and F. R. Armbruster, Dow Chemical Co., Seattle, secretary-treasurer.

Banker Says Canada Increases Status

Canada's relative position among the nations of the world has increased enormously in importance in the last decade, according to L. S. Bolton, assistant general manager at the Montreal office of the Bank of Montreal, a visitor to Victoria.

Believing that major development projects across the Dominion would ensure Canada a safe conduct through the difficult times of the present readjustment period, Mr. Bolton was able to list major developments planned in nearly every province. He had no fear that Canada, with millions of dollars to spend, would suffer a recession.

He believes the country is entering a more normal business period when it will experience a return of healthy competition in business.

'Show Business' A Happy Event; Repeated Tonight

Infectious enthusiasm and gaiety spread from the stage of Memorial Hall last night to the last row of the building, when Christ Church Cathedral Anglican Young People's Association presented their sparkling opening performance of "Show Business," produced by Mrs. M. Allen.

It was an all-round happy event which will be repeated tonight and Saturday night at 8.15.

Spiked with a jolly, friendly humor and filled with familiar excerpts from musical comedies and light operas, the story of a group of young show people, whose leading lady deserts them just before their new production is to have its premiere, was thoroughly enjoyed by the capacity audience.

Members of the Cathedral A.Y.P.A. co-operated in the writing of the script. Among those taking part were: Bill Chisholm, Gregory Harvey, Gordon McMillan, Wally Jones, Jacqueline Johnstone, Betty Ireland, Faith Wasson and Mary Bell.

All ex-members of the 88th Battalion C.E.F. are invited to attend the re-union dinner at Loughheed's Banquet Hall at 7 next Monday. The re-union marks the 33rd anniversary of leaving for overseas. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

May Seek Record Chest Objective

Possibility of a record Community Chest objective covering requirements for a 14-month period from Nov. 1, 1949, to Dec. 31, 1950, was seen at a meeting of the board of directors, Thursday night.

Mrs. R. D. Harvey was named chairman of the campaign's residential division and R. W. Phipps, head of the industrial division. W. E. A. Barclay heads the budget committee.

The directors discussed getting the Chest finances back on the calendar-year basis. Last year when the objective fell short of funds needed, it was decided to allocate the money available on a 10-month rate, leaving no provisions for the months of November and December of 1949.

The 21-member agencies will be asked to submit budgets on estimated requirements for the calendar year 1950. A decision, however, is yet to be made whether the campaign will base its 1950 objective on a 12-month plan which would leave November and December unprovided for, or ask for an objective that would cover the 14-month period.

Cordova Bay Man Dies

Saanich police reported that James Stead, 79, was found dead from natural causes in his Cordova Bay Walema Avenue home Thursday night at 7.30. He passed away while reading a newspaper in bed. Mr. Stead was born in England but has been a resident of the bay for 10 years. He leaves two sisters in England.

In The News 25 Years Ago

Unique Broadcast Of Songs

In these days of on-the-spot radio broadcasts citizens sit in their easy chairs and expect to hear reports of everything from a football game to a major disaster, but it is unlikely if there could be heard on the air at the present time anything quite like a broadcast made 25 years ago in England.

On May 20, 1924, the Daily Times, in a front-page news story, date-lined London, told how "thousands of persons who had never listened to the notes of a nightingale heard the songs of those shy little birds broadcast from the depths of a Surrey wood late last night."

There was no mention of just what prompted such a unique broadcast, or how it was financed, but it is evident that the London broadcasting station went to considerable trouble to bring the nightingales' songs into the living-room of its listeners.

The report continues: "Great precaution had been taken to keep the local residents far enough away so as not to frighten the birds, who were tempted to sing at the right moment by notes sounded on a 'cello by a musician seated in the woods, it having been found that they responded to musical tones resembling those with which they habitually begin their songs."

"A sensitive microphone and amplifier were used to transmit the notes to the London station, whence they were relayed to other stations throughout the country and radio sets."

Two Boys Suffer Fractured Legs In City Accidents

Two boys suffered leg fractures in accidents Thursday afternoon and night in the city, police reported.

Jack Clark, 12-year-old cycle rider of 2659 Douglas is in Jubilee Hospital with a left thigh fracture suffered when his bicycle was in collision with a car driven by John E. Page, 3491 Saanich Road, at Cormorant and Douglas Streets, Constable Keith Hollett reported. This occurred at 10.30.

Mrs. Jean Cooke, 320, Bessborough Avenue, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for minor hurts, a bruised forehead and knee abrasions, in the afternoon. Police said the car, driven by Leslie C. Cooke was in collision with another driven by James Lambie, 376 Walker Street, at Haultain Street and Fernwood Road. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Joseph Bennett, 10, of 2916 Austin Avenue, was taken to Jubilee Hospital to be treated for a fractured thigh fracture. He sustained the bone fracture in a fall eight feet from a porch. Condition of both boys is reported good by hospital attendants.

Rotarians Plan Two-Day Meet At Qualicum In June

Following closely on the footsteps of the Rotary district conference last week, the announcement of what is expected to be the largest inter-city meeting of Rotary Clubs in the province was made at the regular luncheon meeting of the local affiliation Thursday at the Empress Hotel.

Meet has been set for Qualicum Beach on the weekend of June 4 and 5, with members from all clubs on the island together with the Vancouver Club gathering for the mammoth affair.

Entertainment for the two-day meeting will be handled entirely by the Victoria Club and Rotarian James Pinfold outlined the program which includes sports, social and business functions.

At Thursday's luncheon, general conference chairman A. C. Lindsay gave a report on the success of the recent conference which was described as "the best conference held here or anywhere else in district 101." Mr. Lindsay praised the splendid co-operation, a feature which made the conference a success.

Meteorologist Joins B.C. Forest Service

D. W. Perrie, who has served with the Dominion meteorological service for 10 years, today arrived in Victoria from Toronto to join the B.C. Forest Service's forest protection branch.

On June 1 Mr. Perrie will join the service to take charge in connection with forest fire hazards. He will correlate general weather predictions with hazards in the bush and attempt to build up a system for local weather predictions.

With him arrived Mrs. Perrie and their two children.

Mr. Perrie is considered an expert on the upper atmosphere having published a book on clouds and a pamphlet on cloud seeding experiments for rain-making.

Drivers Fined For Not Driving With Care, Prudence

Kenneth McConnell, 32 Gorge Road West, and Harold H. Clark, 413 Constance Avenue, convicted on charges of failing to drive in a careful and prudent manner, were fined by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon.

McConnell was fined $35 and Clark $40. In both cases Magistrate Hall directed that driver's licences be held. The length of suspension will be up to the superintendent of the Motor Vehicle Branch, it was pointed out, after a report had been filed with him.

These were the first convictions locally under the Motor Vehicle Act regulations. Charges were previously laid under the Criminal Code under the heading of "dangerous driving" in which the magistrate set the fine and the term of licence suspension. All future driving charges in this category will be laid under the provincial act.

$9,092 Contributed To Cancer Campaign

The month-long Greater Victoria 1949 Conquer Cancer Campaign will officially wind up today, but citizens who wish to contribute at a later date are asked to leave donations at 605 Courtney Street, J. Q. Gillan, co-chairman of the local campaign announced Thursday.

He said $9,092.44 had been received so far, and expects that subsequent donations will bring the figure over the $10,000 objective.

More than 75 per cent of the provincial objective of $100,000 has been collected, the provincial committee reports.

Post Office arrangements on May 24, Victoria Day, will be as follows: Letter-carrier delivery, nil; wicket service, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.; special delivery, as usual; receipt and dispatch of mails, as usual; public lobby, open until 6 p.m.

Garagemen Played Role Of Policemen To Catch Youth

Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today heard the story from witnesses how a partner in a garage business played the role of a policeman to bring about an arrest and court action.

This was the preliminary hearing of John Graham, 20, of 1899 Townley Street, on a charge of attempting to steal a Californian's car on or about May 14.

Graham was remanded to Monday for formal committal for trial in a higher court by Magistrate Hall at the conclusion of the hearing today. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, acted for the Crown, Patrick J. Sinnott is defence counsel.

The car accused is alleged to have been tried to steal is owned by Harold W. Jacobs of San Francisco. Earlier in the week, the owner told of arriving in the city and having his car stored by the Empress Hotel doorman.

Evidence showed the 1949 Buick coupe, worth $3,000, had been stored at Dickson Bros. garage at Humboldt and Douglas Streets.

Lionel Dickson, partner in the business, told of getting phone calls to allow a person who said he was the son of Mr. Jacobs to take the car out of the garage.

When accused subsequently came to the garage and was in the act of driving the car out, according to testimony, he finally ran out of the garage after a scuffle in the car with Mr. Dickson and was picked up on Douglas Street by city police.

Witness told the court he became suspicious following the telephone calls and requested the police to arrive when the person came to get the car.

Mr. Dickson said while the voice of accused sounded like the one on the telephone, he would not swear the voice over the telephone was Graham's.

"Why didn't you chase him out when he came in?" asked Mr. Sinnott.

"Because I thought it was a matter of the type that should be dealt with," Mr. Dickson said. Mr. Dickson said that after accused started the car he prevented it from leaving the garage.

age by jamming on the foot brake when Graham put his foot on the gas. He said the car skidded for several feet.

Mr. Sinnott wanted to know if witness had not allowed accused to get in the car and start the engine "to get incriminating evidence on him" and received a reply from witness that he thought that was probably the intent.

Robert E. Brown, 3020 Douglas Street, garage attendant, said he saw part of the incident. George King, 644 Ralph Street, a salesman, said he watched the whole proceedings.

To Show Film Here Of Rescue From Japs

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Brooks, missionaries and former Victoria residents who were imprisoned by the Japanese during the Second World War, will show films at the Broad Street Auditorium at 8 Saturday evening taken by army photographers during the rescue of prisoners at the Lost Banos camp in the Philippines in 1945 by U.S. paratroops and Filipino guerrillas.

Mr. Brooks was a member of the Oaklands Gospel Hall before going to Manila in 1922.

John Hamill, 1569 Foul Bay Road, former at Olson Motors, reported to city police that he hung his coat up in an office shed Thursday afternoon and that someone stole $70 of the $130 in an inside pocket.

16 Nations Stake Claims In Antarctica

By DAVID A. STEIN

World interest has been focused increasingly on rugged, mountainous, little-known Antarctica—a continent almost twice the size of Canada.

Economically, the Antarctic may be a sleeping industrial giant, rich in mineral resources. Politically, at least 16 nations, including Russia, are interested in staking out claims on the basis of earlier explorations and territorial aspirations.

Strategically, Antarctic islands and waters are vital because of their potential use as air and naval bases.

TWO-YEAR EXPEDITION

Scientists representing three nations will take off later this year on a two-year expedition to the interior of Queen Maud Land, claimed by Norway. No man has ever set foot in this region. It is known only from aerial photographs made by earlier explorers.

Norway, Sweden and Great Britain have pooled their experience and equipment to enable 14 scientists to make the voyage, aboard a Norwegian seal hunting ship. Radar apparatus will help the explorers to study meteorological conditions, in an effort to determine the future climate of the world. Glacial tests will be made to find out whether the world is getting warmer.

Geologists will concentrate on a search for commercially valuable mineral deposits. So far there has been no exploitation of the continent's known resources, which include traces of coal, copper, silver, gold, tin and manganese, among other ores. The explorers seek to learn whether the Antarctic can support life and industry.

Antarctica's waters are the world's last remaining major whaling area. Last year an international scramble for whales developed. Russia sent 13 ships for "large-scale scientific research" and 2,500 whales to provide oil and meat. Argentina has ordered an ultra-modern 20,000-ton factory ship, the Juan

Peron, to be outfitted in England and to be equipped with patrol aircraft. Norway sent nine factory ships, accompanied by scores of "catcher" boats. Japan, Britain, South Africa and the Netherlands joined the hunt for 25,000 whales during the season starting last December and ending this March. A large proportion of the soap you use was made with Antarctic whale oil. As yet, no country has title to any part of the Antarctic that would stand up in a court of international law. The United States has taken the lead in exploration and research, but has made no formal claim to territory. Last year, the United States State Department informally urged internationalization of the Antarctic. Only Great Britain of the eight other countries now asserting their claims agreed to further talks along the line suggested by Uncle Sam.

WANTS TO BE INCLUDED

Russia, which has made no formal claim to Antarctic territory, has demanded that its representatives be included in any international conference. The Soviet claim to a "Russian Sector of the Antarctic Continent" is based on explorations made in 1820 by Von Bellingshausen credited with discovery of Alexander I Land and Peter I Island.

Argentina, Chile and Great Britain have been involved in a long disagreement over the Falkland Islands. After all three countries had projected visits to the disputed regions, an agreement was announced jointly that none would send naval vessels to the Antarctic in the 1948-49 season. Chile, however, sent a naval transport and two smaller vessels to relieve permanent garrisons there.

Norway wants exclusive sovereignty over Peter the 1st Island and Queen Maud Land. Australia claims a sector almost as large as itself. The Australians maintain three permanent bases in the sub-Antarctic. Other nations with claims for territory include France and New Zealand.

COVERED LARGE AREA

"Operation High Jump," in 1946 and 1947, was commanded by Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, under U.S. sponsorship. During 47 flights, three Byrd groups covered an area half as large as the United States. At least 340,000 square miles were explored for the first time, and 5,400 miles of coastline were discovered, relocated or confirmed. Ten new mountain ranges, an ice-free region of open water lakes in summer near the edge of the continent, and apparent large reserves of coal were among Byrd's discoveries. James W. Ellsworth Land was claimed for the U.S. by Lincoln Ellsworth in 1935, and Marie Byrd Land was claimed by Rear-Admiral Byrd in 1929.

Admiral Byrd reported in 1941 that he had encountered a Japanese ship in Antarctic waters. The German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee may have been supplied from an Antarctic base. Future wars, American strategists have said, will find both the North Pole and South Pole to be strategically important. Naval and air bases in the South Shetland region, the Bay of Whales or the Palmer Peninsula may prove vital.

While current efforts are being concentrated on discovery and exploration, sealing, whaling, and scientific work, the time may come soon when the United States, along with other claimants to Antarctic territory, will take active steps toward settlement and administration.

California Woman Wins Radio Prizes

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—For just blurring out "cash on delivery," a Glendale housewife won $26,000 worth of radio prizes.

Mrs. Marie Spangler, 25, won the jackpot Tuesday night on a national radio show (Hit the Jackpot—CBS) by correctly identifying a secret saying.

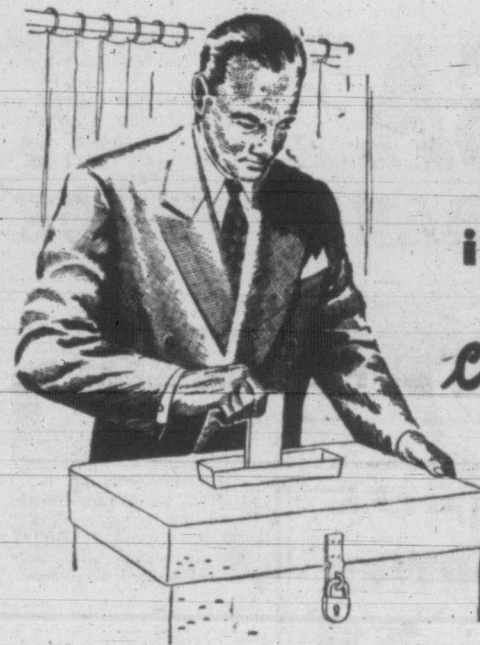

"I must have changed my mind a dozen times about what the winning secret saying would be," she said. "But when the master of ceremonies called from New York, I just blurted it out."

Prizes include an automobile, a flying vacation to Lima, Peru, a $2,000 wardrobe, $1,000 worth of hats and even a gold-plated lawnmower.

That last item will come in handy. Mrs. Spangler, her husband and baby live in an apartment.

OFFICIAL GO-AHEAD—That sheet of paper held by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, is an election writ authorizing returning officers in the federal constituencies to get ready for the June 27 election. Mrs. Francine Gahm, Mr. Castonguay's office assistant, examines it with him. The writ orders returning officers to receive nominations June 12 and supervise polling two weeks later.—(CF Photo)

Nanaimo Gets Training School

Hon. W. T. Straith opens the Dominion-Provincial Vocational Training School at Nanaimo. Left to right, Mayor George Muir of Nanaimo, Mr. Straith, H. A. Jones, director of technical and vocational education and Hon. George S. Pearson—Island Events Photo by Alec Merriman.

NANAIMO—Hon. W. T.

Straith, Minister of Education, declared the Dominion-Provincial Technical Training School at Camp Nanaimo, officially opened Thursday at a ceremony attended by 200 guests from island points.

Relatives of 32 boys in training at the school for graduation in September were among those present in the school which was an old army building.

Interest of the Provincial government in the school was stressed by Mr. Straith and Health Minister George S. Pearson in brief talks in which they congratulated the students for choosing the diesel and automotive engineering courses as their future vocations.

Demonstrations of their practical experience in workshops was given. H. A. Jones, director of technical and vocational education, was chairman. On hand was J. Macready, superintendent of the technical school, who first suggested such a school for high school boys soon after he was discharged from training troops in the same courses during the last war.

The boys were hosts at a dinner in Plaza Hotel in the evening, at which Elmer Bradshaw was chairman.

Steels Hit New Lows For Year

NEW YORK (AP)—An attempt to recoup early losses made small headway in the stock market. Losses ranged from fractions to more than a point and were pretty well distributed through the list.

Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet all hit 1949 lows during the day but at times showed signs of coming back.

London Market

LONDON (Reuters)—Except for a few isolated instances markets were quiet Friday with both public and professional investors showing indifference towards dealing before the week-end.

British government securities were collected.

Among foreigners Greek bonds attracted some attention and despite the rather conflicting reports moved higher on the assumption that these reports indicate that movements are about to take about a speedy and peaceful settlement in Greece.

Kaffirs were quietly steady apart from Middle Nile, which received Cape and local support, on hopes of some news forthcoming in the near future regarding the first Virginia area isolation.

Constructions, Banks Advance

TORONTO (CP)—Western oils were forced downward for the second successive session in dull trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Papers, utilities, steels and foods showed wide lists of fractional losses and some textiles eased. Constructions and banks went against the trend to chalk up small advances.

Step To Stimulate Trade In Securities

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange is taking another step aimed at stimulating trade in securities, it was announced today.

The exchange, through a special committee, will study the possibility of lowering commissions on what Wall Street calls in-and-out trading—that is, purchases and sales of securities within a limited period.

The study, according to financial quarters, was prompted in part by the belief that an increase in commission rates put into effect about two years ago has cut down in-and-out trading.

Before Jean left Sydney, she had begun a career as a fashion designer. When her parents left for B.C., she decided to wait to see if they would like it here. They did, so she left her work in Australia and boarded the Aorangi for Victoria, where she now hopes to carry on her work in fashion designing.

Another reunion was that of Miss Gertrude Lang, 1206 Fairfield Road, a member of the City Hall staff, who was down at the dock this morning to greet her sister, Mrs. Freda Thompson of Vancouver, who is returning from a 20-month visit with Australian friends.

High Commissioner RETURNS
Others aboard the Aorangi included A. Rive, High Commissioner for Canada in New Zealand, and Mrs. Rive and their children—Hally, nine; Elias, seven; John, five; and two-year-old Edith Jane.

Mr. Rive is back in Canada on furlough. He will spend a month in Vancouver and then journey to eastern Canada, where he will rest for a time before returning to his New Zealand post.

Another prominent returning Canadian is Brig. E. Dewar, returning to Canada with his wife following a two-year holiday in Australia. "There is no country

Ms. Aorangi Re-Unites Brothers After 40 Years Of Separation

A new family for Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Merritt greet their daughter Jean, who arrived aboard the Aorangi today, seven months after her parents. All three were interned by the Japanese in the Philippines during the war.

The Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi, arriving in Victoria at seven this morning on her fourth postwar voyage from New Zealand and Australia, brought about the reunion of two brothers who had not seen each other for 40 years.

They are 60-year-old F. R. Britton, 130 Hampton Road, who was still in bed at home the day his brother George, now 64, left Bristol, Eng., as a 25-year-old emigrant to far-off New Zealand. They did not see each other again until today.

Fred Britton remained in England for a while. During the First World War, he served with Royal Navy Transport. In 1921, he left his homeland to serve with the merchant navy, and finally with the Royal Canadian Navy from which he retired only four years ago. A week ago he began working at Yarrow Ltd.

George in the meantime was busy making a home in his new land. Today he is a master carpenter in Mangara, Auckland, New Zealand, and has a family of married children settled there.

He made the trip up here to visit his brother, after which he will continue on to England to visit his 87-year-old father who still rides a bicycle through the streets of Bristol. When the visiting is done, George will return to New Zealand.

There were other reunions at the Aorangi's dock this morning, although not after such a long separation.

INTERNED BY JAPANESE

One was that of 22-year-old Jean Merritt, who came up from Sydney, Australia, to rejoin her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Merritt of 2307 Windsor Road, who preceded her to this country over half a year ago.

Jean, who was born in the Philippines, where her father was connected with a stevedoring company before the war, prefers to talk about the future rather than the past, for while others of her age were enjoying the fun of teenage, she was suffering the horrors of internment in a Japanese prison camp with her Australian-born parents.

Before Jean left Sydney, she had begun a career as a fashion designer. When her parents left for B.C., she decided to wait to see if they would like it here. They did, so she left her work in Australia and boarded the Aorangi for Victoria, where she now hopes to carry on her work in fashion designing.

Another reunion was that of Miss Gertrude Lang, 1206 Fairfield Road, a member of the City Hall staff, who was down at the dock this morning to greet her sister, Mrs. Freda Thompson of Vancouver, who is returning from a 20-month visit with Australian friends.

William Stapleton Retires From C.N.R.

WINNIPEG—Bringing to a close a railroad career that goes back for 46 years, William Stapleton, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, stepped into private life today.

Mr. Stapleton is one of the most widely-known passenger friends in Canada and numbers his friends, not only in Canada, but in the United States and Great Britain. Mr. and Mrs. Stapleton will leave shortly for Hamilton where they will make their future home.

A fine of $35 was imposed on William Anderson, 3226 Doncaster Road, in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to a charge under the Motor Vehicle Act of failing to drive in a careful and prudent manner. He was involved in an accident at Cook and Haultain Street May 13.

Others included among the Aorangi's passengers were: Viscount Leverhulme, governor of Messrs. Lever Bros. and Unilever Ltd. and Lady Leverhulme; Cmdr. T. S. Critchley, former naval officer-in-charge, Fiji, and naval

Manton Elected

Joseph Manton, who was elected president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday, will assume office in September.

Re-elected were Clyde Elford, secretary, and Stanley Roberts, vice-president. Norman Foster will remain as honorary treasurer.

Named to the board of directors at an earlier meeting were Earl Dickenson, William Walker, James Isaac, Donald Smith and Harry Holmes.

Amend Capitalism McCullagh Advises

TORONTO (CP)—The way to combat Socialism and Communism "is to amend capitalism and make it work," George McCullagh told a luncheon meeting here today. After a fact-finding tour of Great Britain and Western Europe, the Toronto newspaper publisher said he was convinced that "Socialism is not the most desirable system under which to live."

The speaker told members of the Toronto Canadian and Empire Clubs that "this is a testing time for all the world."

Mr. McCullagh, who included Italy, France, Holland, Switzerland and Germany in his tour, said he had returned "with the definite conviction that war is far less a possibility today than ever since the cessation of hostilities."

Prepare For Festival

CHILLIWACK (CP)—The largest and most colorful cherry festival in Chilliwack's history will be held July 1 in this Fraser Valley city—minus, officials hope, the disastrous floods that canceled the celebration last year.

Officials said today they are pleased the 1949 flood threat is disappearing.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Postpone Peace Talks To Settle Asbestos Strike

QUEBEC (CP) — Talks between Labor Minister Barrette and Gerard Picard, president of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, aimed at settling the Eastern Townships Asbestos strike were postponed today until Monday. No reason was given for the postponement.

The postponement was announced after the two held a brief meeting in the minister's office shortly before noon.

The labor leader said he would return to Montreal during the week-end to report to the C.C.C.L. executive and leaders of striking Asbestos syndicates on the progress made in talks so far.

At Montreal, United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.) proposed a joint labor conference in Asbestos, of all trade unions in Quebec province in support of the strikers.

The proposal was made in a telegram to Picard.

The telegram suggested the conference "in view of the uncompromising attitude of Duplessis government and companies towards just demands of Asbestos strikers and in view of persecution and mass arrests of honest workers by provincial police."

Dicker For Newsprint

BUENOS AIRES (Reuter) — Argentina's National Economic Council is studying two ways of obtaining urgently-needed newsprint supplies, Finance Minister Jose Ramon Cereijo told a delegation of newspaper proprietors. One would be to barter linseed oil for paper, the other to pay for it in non-convertible sterling, he said.

--- Aah -- Aah -- Aatchoo!

Michael Hippisley, 14, who has been sneezing in London at the rate of one every three seconds (that's 134,000 in eight days), is seen preparing (left) for another. That's No. 134,001 coming up (right) and Michael is all set to let it go, although he's pretty bored, and tired. He has been unable to go to school lately and can sleep at night only with the aid of sedatives. Doctors think he's the victim of an allergy, but can't find out the exact cause, and haven't been able to develop a cure. (NEA Photo.)

20 Danish Seamen Given Up For Lost

HALIFAX (CP) — Search was abandoned today for 20 Danish seamen who took to lifeboats after the motor-schooner Ebba sank off Greenland Monday.

The R.C.A.F. said here that search planes reported strong gales in the area today and were ordered back to base and the hunt abandoned for good.

Two R.C.A.F. Lancasters, several United States planes based in Greenland, Newfoundland, Labrador and Iceland, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Owasco and four small Danish fishing craft had covered thousands of square miles of freezing sea during the four-day search.

It was presumed that the small boats' had capsized in the savage north Atlantic.

Advices Against Boycott Of Soviet Bloc By E.C.A.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign Aid Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said today it would hurt European recovery if the Russian bloc were "boycotted" in purchases under the Marshall Plan.

After telling how the Economic Co-operation Administration, which he heads, has financed Western European purchases of machinery from Czechoslovakia and Hungary, coal from Poland, and the like, he said:

"E.C.A. has refused to split Europe completely through the construction of an economic wall to match the Iron Curtain. To do so would be merely cutting off one source of recovery for Europe.

"It would be denying to the free nations of Europe, goods they have traditionally received from the east. It would be denying them the right to sell their own goods to those eastern countries.

"The net result would be a substantially increased cost for the recovery program or, in other words, an additional burden for United States taxpayers."

Hoffman, in an article in the commerce department's "Foreign Commerce Weekly," said his organization's job "would be done" if the Marshall Plan countries "could increase their sales to the United States by merely 1 per cent of the present United States national income."

Former Chaplain To Union College

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. John W. Grant has been appointed to the faculty of Union College, a University of British Columbia theological school, United Church officials announced here today.

A Rhodes scholar from the Maritimes after the Second World War, Dr. Grant replaces Prof. Basil Mathews, who retired recently. During the war he was a naval chaplain and previously was editor of the Protestant religious section of the Wartime Information Board in Ottawa.

RUSTY RILEY

Bombing Ice-Jam Planned

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Some 180 Alaska natives clustered a shrinking point of high ground astride the Arctic Circle today while the ice-jammed Yukon River, which flooded their Fort Yukon homes, inched higher about them.

At Ladd Air Force base, Fairbanks, 10th Rescue Squadron officers plotted means of evacuating the refugees should efforts fail to rebait the stubborn Yukon ice jam. The flooded area is about 140 miles northeast of here.

Four twin Mustangs, each carrying 500-pound bombs, will try again to shatter the jam which has formed anew after being blasted free by air force bombs Thursday night.

A following C-47 then dropped food and blankets to the natives, cut off from all sides by flood waters.

SOME IN SAFETY

Rescue officials expressed fear that the small knoll on which the townspeople have taken refuge might become inundated. There was hope, however, that blasting the jam might bring immediate relief. The village's radio, still in operation, reported there were no known casualties. About half the population, the message said, is gathered on the knoll, while the others, residing on higher levels of the town, apparently are safe.

Fort Yukon, the oldest settlement on the river, lies exactly on the Arctic Circle where the Yukon makes a big bend toward the west.

An unknown number of persons are marooned at the mining camp of Ophir, 280 miles southwest of here, and the situation is described as "desperate." The camp is flooded by the ice-choked Polger Creek headwaters.

Skipper Faces Trial

BOSTON (AP) — The captain of the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Eastwind, which collided with a tanker off the New Jersey coast last January with a loss of 13 Coast Guardsmen, will face a court-martial. The Coast Guard said Capt. John J. Glynn will go on trial here Tuesday. Charges were not disclosed.

Police Of Montreal Patrol Waterfront As C.S.U. Men Land

MONTREAL (CP) — Police in force patrolled the waterfront area today when the Canadian freighter Mont. Rolland, manned by members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.), arrived from Mediterranean ports.

It was believed the crew would join the strike called March 31 by the C.S.U. in protest over Eastern Canada shipowners signing contracts with the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

There was no demonstration when the ship came in. A sister ship, the Mont. Sandra of the Montship lines, is due in port tonight. She is manned by an S.I.U. crew and is the vessel that cleared Halifax early in the strike after a waterfront fight.

The company is expected to place an S.I.U. crew aboard the Mont. Rolland. Both vessels will load cargoes for Europe.

Murder, Suicide Verdict In England

GOLDAMING, Surrey, Eng. (CP) — The law today closed its files on the case of Frederick Radford, 46, who sent presents of poisoned tarts and jellies to his wife when she was in hospital and then took his own life by swallowing Prussic acid.

A coroner's jury Wednesday returned a verdict of murder and suicide after hearing evidence concerning the poisoned food fatally eaten by Mrs. Radford while she was in sanatorium suffering from tuberculosis.

Marjorie Lillian Kite, 42, had been bigamously married to Radford and died from the poisoned food April 15 in Surrey County Sanatorium, where she had been a patient for 15 months. Four days later Radford was found dead in his quarters at St. Thomas Hospital, where he had been working as a chemist.

London's Oldest Church Restored

LONDON (CP) — London's oldest parish church, gutted by German bombs and restored largely by Canadian and U.S. generosity, will be reopened for worship July 15.

The church is All Hallows-by-the-Tower. Roofing of the north aisle is in its final stage. Rt. Rev. John Wand, Bishop of London, will officiate at the rededication. Queen Mother Mary will attend.

H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver sent highly-prized Douglas fir timber.

From Commonwealth countries came a new font, hewn out of Gibraltar rock, a sanctuary chair from Australia, and a rare timber from New Zealand. South Africa is to finance two new pews.

Britain's Exports Off Again In April

LONDON (AP) — Britain's exports dropped in April for the third month in a row.

Board of Trade figures issued today showed the adverse trading balance was more than double the average of the previous three months.

The board listed imports in April at £187,500,000 ($750,000,000) — £44,000,000 greater than the value of goods shipped abroad.

The exports were 49 per cent greater in volume than those of 1938.

The target figure for prosperity in Britain's long-term program is 60 per cent more than 1938.

Vancouver Seamen Threatened, They Say

MONTREAL (CP) — David Joyce, Vancouver seaman who was said to have threatened two sailors here Thursday night with a revolver before they took it from him, today was charged with illegal possession of a weapon. Bail was set at $1,900.

Pickets Withdrawn

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The striking Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) withdrew picket lines from the waterfront here today after they had been ignored by the Longshoremen's Protective Union. The C.S.U. began picketing early this week.

Train Cars Jump Tracks

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — Eighteen cars of an eastbound freight train jumped the tracks on the Canadian National Railway's main line 18 miles east of here today, but there were no casualties among the train crew.
